A message from Kathy Smith

This summer, my office is lucky enough to welcome four talented interns. I hope you'll enjoy reading about them. If you know any young person who would be interested in an internship this fall, please reply to this email, send their resume to me at Supervisorsmith@fairfaxcounty.gov, or call 703-814-7100.

Announcing our Summer 2016 Interns

Rebecca Pierce was born and currently resides in Chantilly, Virginia. She attends Chantilly High School. She is a vegetarian, and an advocate for animal welfare. Rebecca's love for animals has led her to volunteer for "A Forever Home", a dog rescue organization, and has given her the passion to pursue veterinary medicine. She aspires to study at either the University of California Davis or the Royal Veterinary College of London.

Gala Loayza resides in Oakton, Virginia and attends Oakton High School. Prior to living in the United States, she grew up in La Paz, Bolivia. Gala hopes to pursue her college studies in London, where her older sister currently lives. Gala enjoys visiting D.C and playing soccer. She is an avid fan of the Uruguayan and Argentinean national soccer teams.

Matt Wallace has lived all of his life in the Chantilly community. During his time at Chantilly High School, Matt had some interest in music; both playing and serving as a leader in the Symphonic Winds, Marching Band, Jazz Band, and Indoor Drumline. Matt is currently attending the University of Virginia where he plans to major in History and Chinese.

Ben Press is a recent graduate of James Madison High School and a rising freshman at Princeton University. He has been an active leader both at the school and county levels since his sophomore year. Ben served as the student representative on the School Board. Outside of FCPS, Ben has worked as a student representative with multiple advocacy organizations including Real Food for Kids and the Fairfax County Council of PTAs.

This week I'm announcing my appointment of Cathy Muha to the Fairfax County Commission on Aging. Cathy holds a Masters in Clinical Leadership End of Life Care from George Washington University. She has advocated for patients in Fairfax County Long Term Care Facilities and made patient visits on behalf of the Heartland Hospice Organization. Cathy is currently an Associate Faculty Member at the Georgetown Medical School, facilitating a module for first and second year Medical Students in Bioethics. As a long time champion for the rights and plights of the aged, Cathy will do an excellent job on the Commission.

WFCM Accepts Backpack Donations

Summer means not only hot days, fireflies, lemonade... but also backpack time at WFCM! WFCM still need 240 backpacks for elementary aged students. Each needs to be a full size backpack which will hold a binder. WFCM also need 170 backpacks for high school students. Can you help? Backpack donations can be taken to any church holding a drive for WFCM or to our Food Pantry, Monday-Friday, 9am - 2pm. WFCM is located at 13888 Metrotech Drive, Chantilly, VA. Costco is having a sale on its High Sierra backpack July 7- July 31, on sale for $15.99!

Rocky is a fun, friendly, and playful dog who is always looking for a new adventure! He was surrendered because his owners were moving out of the country and couldn't take him. They said that he is great with kids and other dogs but a little scared around cats. He is an energetic dog who is looking for a new family who will make sure he gets lots of regular playtime, help him polish up on his obedience commands and learn new tricks, and will love him forever.
