Welcome to the county's newest building, the Merrifield Center, home to almost half of the staff of the Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board (CSB)!

A wide range of services are offered here, including CSB's entry, referral and assessment services, 24/7 emergency services for individuals experiencing a psychiatric crisis and the mobile crisis team. Outpatient services and supports, intensive case management, psychiatric services, medication management, community-based supports for individuals with intellectual disability, and wellness and health promotion services are also provided at Merrifield, as well as a pharmacy, peer support, and other services to promote and sustain recovery. Also at Merrifield is an alternative school for teens, operated jointly by Fairfax County Public Schools and the CSB. Some staff members of other county departments are also located at Merrifield, including the Department of Family Services' Anger & Domestic Abuse Prevention & Treatment (ADAPT) team and others. A primary health care clinic, a dental clinic and other additional services are coming in the near future. Our goal is to integrate behavioral and primary health care services in one friendly location.

The 200,000 square foot facility and adjacent parking structure promotes the natural partnership between the environmentally responsible tenets of "green" development and providing a warm, welcoming and therapeutic environment. The building itself is designed to integrate beautifully with its physical surroundings.

This project has been part of the county's capital building plan for years, and was developed through bond funding, a land exchange with Inova Fairfax Hospital, and lease savings as CSB programs moved out of leased facilities into the new county-owned building. Co-locating these services at one central location allows us to better serve individuals who have complex needs. By sharing resources and collaborating, we also realized many operational efficiencies.
