

“Every society, all government, and every kind of civil compact, is or ought to be, calculated for the general good and safety of the community.”

April 17-26, 1775

Excerpted from a document written by George Mason while serving on Fairfax County’s Committee of Safety.

