Contributory Overview

Fund 119, Contributory Fund, was established in FY 2001 to reflect General Fund support for agencies or organizations that receive County contributions. FY 2012 funding totals $12,212,942 and reflects an increase of $174,637 or 1.45 percent over the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan funding level of $12,038,305. The required Transfer In from the General Fund is $12,162,942. Individual contributions are described in detail on the following pages.

Contributory funding is in compliance with the Board of Supervisors' policy to make General Fund appropriations of specified amounts to various nonsectarian, nonprofit or quasi-governmental entities for the purpose of promoting the general health and welfare of the community. Contributory agency positions are not part of the County merit system and funding for all contributory agencies is reviewed annually. Each request is reviewed on the basis of the benefit to Fairfax County citizens, contractual or regional commitments, the responsibilities of state agencies, and a prior County commitment of funding. When appropriate, a nonprofit agency that provides specific contractual partnership services may be referred to Fund 118, Consolidated Community Funding Pool, for funding consideration by the Consolidated Community Funding Advisory Committee.

Since public funds are being appropriated, disbursements provided to designated agencies are currently made contingent upon submission and review of quarterly, semiannual and/or annual reports. This oversight activity includes reporting requirements prescribed by the County Executive, requiring designated agencies to accurately describe the level and quality of services provided to County residents, as well as the overall financial strength and stability of the County's contributory agencies. Various County agencies may be tasked with oversight of program reporting requirements. Contributory agencies that do not file reports as requested, may, at the discretion of the County Executive, have payments withheld until appropriate reports are filed and reviewed.

It should be noted that population is used by several of the organizations as the basis for their requests for FY 2012 funding from Fairfax County. The population figures cited by the individual organizations for Fairfax County may differ somewhat from one another due to the particular projection service utilized.

The chart on the following pages summarizes the FY 2012 funding for the various contributory organizations.

FY 2012 Funding Adjustments

The following funding adjustments from the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan are necessary to support the FY 2012 program:

◆ FY 2012 Baseline Adjustments $174,637

A net increase of $174,637 reflects adjustments associated with contributions based on legal requirements, per capita calculations, contractual or regional commitments or based on membership dues. The following summaries describe these adjustments in more detail by program area.

The Legislative-Executive Functions/Central Service Agencies program area increases $15,804 for several organizations based on per capita requirements and adjusted County population figures for which population is cited and used in the calculation. This increase includes $6,145 or 0.7 percent for Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (MWCOG) due to an increase in the Water Resources and the Regional Environmental Fund assessment, $4,152 or 0.7 percent for the Northern Virginia Regional Commission due to a slight increase in the County population estimate, and $17,296 or 52.9 percent for the Washington Airports Task Force. This increase is partially offset by a decrease of $11,789 or 6.3 percent for the Northern Virginia Transportation Commission (NVTC) based on the share of revenue to be received by NVTC on behalf of the County (calculation based on state statute). It should be noted that population, as determined by the County's Department of Systems Management for Human Services, may differ from other particular projection services, e.g., Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service, used by various contributory agencies as the basis for their contributions.

The Public Safety program area increases $5,100 or 10.2 percent due to an increase in the County's share for the Northern Virginia Regional Identification System (NOVARIS) associated with additional telecommunications costs.

Fund 119

Contributory Fund

The Health and Welfare program area increases $266,479 due to an increase of $318,157 or 17.2 percent for the Northern Virginia Healthcare Center/Birmingham Green Adult Care Residence, known collectively as Birmingham Green. The increase for Birmingham Green is based on actual costs and utilization rates at the facility. This increase is partially offset by a decrease of $51,678 due to transferring of the services currently provided by the George Mason University Law and Mental Illness Clinic to the Fairfax County's Office of the County Attorney.

The Parks, Recreation and Cultural program area decreases $160,000 due to a decrease of $250,000 or 25.0 percent for the Lorton Arts Foundation (LAF) based on amended agreement between Fairfax County and LAF. This decrease is partially offset by an increase of $50,000 or 27.5 percent for the Arts Council of Fairfax County to fund the planning and implementation of a Master Arts Plan of Fairfax County and funding of $40,000 for the Town of Herndon Visitors Center.

The Community Development program area increases $47,254 due to an increase of $47,579 or 2.0 percent for the Convention and Visitors Corporation based on projected Transient Occupancy Tax revenue in FY 2012, partially offset by a slight decrease of $325 or 0.4 percent for the Northern Virginia Community College based on shifts in population among contributing jurisdictions.

Changes to FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan

The following funding adjustments reflect all approved changes in the FY 2011 Revised Budget Plan since passage of the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan. Included are all adjustments made as part of the FY 2010 Carryover Review, and all other approved changes through December 31, 2010:

- ◆ There have been no adjustments to this fund since approval of the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

Alliance for Innovation	$6,000	$6,000	$6,000	$6,000

The Alliance for Innovation – formerly known as the Virginia Innovation Group – is part of the Innovation Groups (IG), a network of local government professionals seeking innovation and governmental excellence. IG, now in its 30th year of service, provides a national forum for those seeking to innovate and learn new approaches to providing public service. IG's purpose is to assist local governments to build and sustain the capacity to be innovative. It provides an 'organizational' membership, meaning that everyone at every level in member jurisdictions can utilize its services. These include an online document library, research inquiry service, national and regional networking opportunities, training and other learning events, two annual conferences, research and publications. The International City/County Management Association, IG and Arizona State University founded the Alliance for Innovation to assist local governments across the country by identifying the major forces that will drive local government in the future; responding to those forces by identifying and accelerating innovations; identifying and documenting best practices; and reducing the time from when an innovation is identified to when it becomes practice.

For FY 2012, the membership dues to the Alliance for Innovation for Fairfax County's share of costs based on population are $6,000, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

Dulles Area Transportation Association	$9,000	$9,000	$9,000	$9,000

The Dulles Area Transportation Association (DATA) is a public-private, nonprofit, 501(c)(3) tax exempt transportation management association dedicated to improving transportation in a 150-square mile area around Dulles Airport including the Route 28, Route 50, Route 7 and Dulles Corridor (the Greater Dulles Area). Its membership is comprised of elected officials of the Commonwealth of Virginia, Fairfax County, Loudoun County, and the towns of Herndon and Leesburg; senior executives of the Metropolitan Washington Area Airports (MWAA) and the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA); and other employer firms, property owners and business professionals, with membership open to all. The Board of Supervisors approved the first contribution for DATA in the FY 1993 budget.

DATA currently has over 130 members; 50 are dues-paying individual corporations and businesses, 10 are dues-paying governmental or quasi-governmental organizations, and the remainder are non-paying local representatives to the General Assembly, representatives of citizen associations, and affiliate members (e.g., Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce), none of whom are obligated to pay dues but allow similar memberships in their organizations.

DATA provides a neutral public forum for identifying transportation needs within the Greater Dulles Area, as well as generating solutions to meet them. DATA plans and conducts transportation seminars in support of efforts to improve transportation in the greater Dulles area in conjunction with regional members of the Commonwealth Transportation Board and other local governing bodies. Other programs emphasize congestion management and mobility approaches including heavy and light rail, bus rapid transit, and highway improvements and the effects of green house gases and climate change will be explored. DATA staff also works with the County's Department of Transportation to execute targeted projects aimed at raising employer and citizen awareness of the challenges and possible solutions to traffic congestion in the region.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding amount for the Dulles Areas Transportation Association is $9,000, which is the same level as the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution amount.

Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments	$889,662	$883,745	$883,745	$889,890

The Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (COG) is the regional planning organization of the Washington, D.C. area's local governments. COG works toward solutions to regional problems such as transportation, affordable housing, emergency preparedness and environmental issues. Currently, 21 area jurisdictions are members, including Fairfax County. Funding for COG is provided through federal and state grants, contributed services, special contributions (fees for services) and local government contributions.

Annual COG contributions are based on the per capita rate multiplied by the population estimates provided by member jurisdictions. The FY 2012 per capita rate is $0.65721, which is consistent with the FY 2011 rate for member contributions.

The FY 2012 Administrative Contribution totals $720,514 and is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan amount. COG calculates each jurisdiction's share based on the region's estimated population. In addition to the Administrative Contribution of $720,514 and Special Contributions of $169,376 ($134,127 for the Regional Environmental Fund and $35,249 for Water Resources), for a total Fund 119 contribution of $889,890, an amount of $13,997 is budgeted in Fund 114, I-95 Refuse Disposal, and $249,628 ($216,533 for Water Resource Planning and $33,095 for Blue Plains Users) is budgeted in Fund 401, Sewer Operation Maintenance Fund - Wastewater Management. The total FY 2012 County contribution to COG is $1,153,515.

National Association of Counties	$19,049	$19,049	$19,049	$19,049

The National Association of Counties (NACo) is an organization that represents and informs participating governments of current developments and policies that affect services and operations. NACo acts as a liaison with other levels of government, works to improve public understanding of counties, serves as a national advocate for counties and provides them with resources to find innovative methods to meet the challenges they face. NACo is involved in a number of special projects that deal with issues such as homeland security, energy, environment, housing and land use, among others.

An amount of $19,049 is included for FY 2012 dues, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

Northern Virginia Regional Commission	$557,111	$564,382	$564,382	$568,534

The Northern Virginia Regional Commission (NVRC) is a regional council of local governments in Northern Virginia created in 1969 pursuant to the Virginia Area Development Act and a regionally-executed charter. In 1995, the Virginia Area Development Act was amended and renamed the Regional Cooperation Act. It sets forth the purpose of planning district commissions as follows: "...to encourage and facilitate local government cooperation in addressing, on a regional basis, problems of greater than local significance. The cooperation resulting from this Act is intended to assist local governments in meeting their own problems by enhancing their abilities to recognize and analyze regional opportunities and take account of regional influences in planning and implementing their public policies and services."

NVRC's policies and programs are established by a 25-member Board of Commissioners composed entirely of elected council and board members of NVRC's 14 member localities. The work of the Commission is supported in part by contributions from the member local governments and by appropriations from the Virginia General Assembly.

NVRC serves as a neutral forum for decision-making; provides member governments with the information and analyses necessary to make sound local and regionally beneficial decisions; provides professional and technical services to enable member governments to plan for their future individually and as a region; and carries out programs and functions at the request of member governments to supplement their own capacities or to achieve economies of scale through regional approaches. NVRC's services are divided into regional policy programs such as the legislative program; demographics and information services; environmental and land use; and human services programs.

The total FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution of $568,534 is an increase of $4,152 or 0.7 percent over the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan of $564,382. This amount provides for the annual contribution of $499,340, as well as special contributions of $42,072 to support the Occoquan Watershed Management Program, $8,085 for the Northern Virginia Waste Management Program and $19,037 for the Four-Mile Run Watershed Management Program. Consistent with the last several fiscal years, NVRC is holding the per capita rate at $0.50 for FY 2012. As a result, the increase is attributable to a slight population increase based on the population estimates generated by the Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service.

Northern Virginia Transportation Commission	$179,609	$186,288	$186,288	$174,499

The Northern Virginia Transportation Commission (NVTC) is the executive agency of the Northern Virginia Transportation District. It was established by state statute as a political subdivision of the Commonwealth of Virginia. The principal business activity of the Commission is to manage and control the functions, affairs and property of the Northern Virginia Transportation District, as defined in the Transportation Act of 1964. It represents its constituent jurisdictions (Alexandria, Falls Church, Fairfax City, Arlington County, Fairfax County and Loudoun County) on the Metro Board.

Each NVTC jurisdiction is assigned a percentage of the local portion of NVTC's administrative budget based on the jurisdiction's share of state aid received by NVTC in the previous year. This is determined by the application of a subsidy allocation model that projects the total amount of state aid received by the region and local jurisdictions. This model contains seven formulas including such variables as Metro construction costs, Metrorail service costs, ridership volume and population. These calculated percentages for each jurisdiction are applied to NVTC's remaining administrative budget after other revenue sources such as state aid, interest earned and project chargebacks have been applied.

The NVTC projected expenditure base for FY 2012 is $1,195,410, which is a decrease of 2.2 percent from the FY 2011 budget; Fairfax County's contribution will decrease by $11,789 based on its share of revenue received by NVTC on behalf of the County. The total FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $174,499, a decrease of $11,789 or 6.3 percent from the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan of $186,288.

Virginia Association of Counties	$223,810	$227,208	$227,208	$227,208

The Virginia Association of Counties (VACo) is an organization dedicated to improving county government in the Commonwealth of Virginia. To accomplish this goal, the association represents Virginia counties regarding state legislation that would have an impact on them. The association also provides conferences, publications and programs designed to improve county government and to keep county officials informed about recent developments in the state, as well as across the nation.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution to VACo is $227,208, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan amount. The per capita rate is projected to remain at $0.22 for member contributions for FY 2012, which is the same rate as FY 2011 and is subject to final FY 2012 budget approval by VACo's governing board.

Virginia Institute of Government	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000	$20,000

The Virginia Institute of Government was created by an act of the General Assembly in 1994, and is a nonprofit organization funded half by the Commonwealth of Virginia and half by local government membership contributions. It is part of the University of Virginia and its Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service. Local governments that join the Institute make annual contributions based on membership. While the Institute began with 60 members, it now has a roster of more than 200 Virginia member localities. The Institute operates with an advisory board of 18 members, each appointed for a single two-year term. It is made up of an equal number of members from the state's legislative and executive branches, as well as local governments.

Fund 119 Contributory Fund

The Institute is an ongoing informal gathering of organizational development staff from Virginia localities established to exchange ideas and strategies for developing high-performance governments and to help the Institute identify areas of needed assistance. Work products of the Virginia Institute of Government encompass four main areas: training, technical assistance, electronic information services, and select research projects. The Institute also provides staff support to certain state legislative and study committees.

The total Fairfax County FY 2012 funding is $20,000, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

Washington Airports Task Force	$34,425	$32,704	$32,704	$50,000

The Commonwealth of Virginia, Fairfax County and the private sector support the Washington Airports Task Force. Its purpose is to develop markets, as well as promote domestic and foreign usage of the Metropolitan Washington Airports. It has yielded hundreds of millions of dollars in economic return for the Washington region and the Commonwealth of Virginia, including investment, tourism income, trade opportunities and jobs. Both Dulles and National Airports continue their significant impact on Fairfax County's economy.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $50,000, an increase of $17,296 or 52.9 percent over the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution of $32,704. The contribution will be used to maintain a comprehensive, proactive marketing and sales program to promote the region's air service opportunities to the world's airlines and other air service providers; encourage improvement of airport access; ensure adequate Air Traffic Control, Homeland Security and Customs support services from the federal government; and support the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority's Capital Development.

NOVARIS	$10,118	$9,577	$9,577	$14,677

The Northern Virginia Regional Identification System (NOVARIS) utilizes state-of-the-art computer equipment to identify criminals by categorizing and matching fingerprints. It enables police to match a fingerprint found at the scene of a crime with any individual who has been arrested in the Washington Metropolitan area by comparing the print or partial print with all prints in the database. An Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS) was installed in FY 2007 that enhanced technologies, including palm print and biometric recognition capabilities. Funding of $8.65 million was secured through an Urban Areas Security Initiative grant to cover the cost of AFIS system replacements for the National Capital Region, including NOVARIS, the District of Columbia, as well as Prince George's County and Montgomery County.

Participating Washington metropolitan area jurisdictions share costs associated with NOVARIS based on the sworn police population of each jurisdiction as approved by the NOVARIS Advisory Board on July 30, 1997. As of FY 2008, Montgomery and Prince George's counties no longer participate in NOVARIS as those jurisdictions have joined a Maryland regional fingerprint system. However, Loudoun County and the Virginia State Police joined NOVARIS in FY 2008. The system is housed in Fairfax County and is staffed by personnel contributed by the participating jurisdictions. Fairfax County exercises a fiduciary responsibility for the financial management and operation of NOVARIS, with the County contribution made through the Contributory Fund.

Fund 119 Contributory Fund

The total Fairfax County FY 2012 contribution of $14,677 is an increase of $5,100 or 53.3 percent over the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan amount of $9,577. The contribution consists of the County's annual share of costs associated with operations and upgrades of NOVARIS. The increase is associated with additional telecommunications costs.

Partnership For Youth	$42,500	$40,375	$40,375	$40,375

The Fairfax Partnership on Youth was created in 1997 as an outgrowth of the Community Initiative to Reduce Youth Violence (CIRYV). Its mission is to bring the community together to reduce youth violence and promote positive youth development. This agency seeks to reduce youth violence by facilitating a forum for public and private providers to collaborate, evaluate and create programs, activities and services to better integrate activities, fill gaps and avoid duplication of efforts in the provision of services to youth in the community.

Among the types of initiatives undertaken by the Partnership for Youth are coordination of the Fairfax Mentoring Partnership; provision of the Support on Suspension (S.O.S.) effort, a voluntary community-based program designed to provide students in grades 6-12 with an opportunity to stay abreast of academic work while out of school due to suspension; the Fairfax County After-School Network for middle school-aged youth to minimize involvement in violence or other risky behaviors; assistance to the County on youth survey analysis; youth services information to provide the community with needed resources; advocacy on youth issues; and the Youth Suicide and Depression Prevention Task Force to study and reduce risk factors for young people.

The Fairfax County contribution for FY 2012 of $40,375 is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan. The FY 2012 contribution will be used to supplement funds received from the Commonwealth of Virginia, as well as corporate and other private funding sources.

Currently, the George Mason University (GMU) Law and Mental Illness Clinic provides legal services to individuals who are petitioning the court for the commitment of a family member in severe mental stress. In commitment proceedings, the individual against whom the commitment proceeding is brought is commonly represented by appointed counsel, while the family petitioning is rarely represented and is generally not familiar with the rules of evidence. Legal services by the Law Clinic have been provided by law students with an assigned supervising attorney.

In FY 2012, these services are recommended to be transferred to Fairfax County's Office of the County Attorney. As a result, no funding is included for the GMU Law and Mental Illness Clinic in the Contributory Fund. Funding of $51,678 is included in the Office of the County Attorney to provide for counsel required at hearings concerning individuals who have been recommended for commitment for mental health care by the Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board. Funding will support an attorney to represent the County's interests on a more consistent daily and year-round basis.

Health Systems Agency of Northern Virginia	$86,750	$86,750	$86,750	$86,750

The Health Systems Agency (HSA) of Northern Virginia is a regional body charged with coordinating and improving the health care system for Northern Virginia. To accomplish this, the agency establishes short-term objectives and long-range goals, as well as prepares annual implementation plans. In addition, HSA promotes and assists in community-oriented planning among and within local health care systems, documents and evaluates the need for new services in the region, and reviews health service and facility capital expenditure proposals subject to certificate of public need regulation filed by health service provider organizations in the region. Member jurisdictions include the counties of Fairfax, Arlington, Loudoun and Prince William, as well as the cities of Fairfax, Alexandria, Manassas and Falls Church. Funding contributions to HSA from local jurisdictions are encouraged but are not required.

The Health Systems Agency established a per capita contribution standard of $0.10 over ten years ago. Although Fairfax County has grown significantly in population since that time, the Health Systems Agency's local jurisdiction contribution requests have remained constant due to contributions from other sources. In FY 2012, revenue of $324,711 is projected to be received from four sources: grants and contracts, $128,100 or 39.4 percent; local government contributions, $161,700 or 49.8 percent; fees, $33,000 or 10.2; and interest earnings and miscellaneous income of $1,911 or 0.6 percent. Fairfax County is the largest local government contributor in FY 2012, providing $86,750 or 53.6 percent of the support received from the local government units.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding amount for the Health Systems Agency is $86,750, which is the same level as the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution amount.

Northern Virginia Healthcare Center/Birmingham Green Adult Care Residence	$1,753,592	$1,847,761	$1,847,761	$2,165,918

Birmingham Green, a collective name, was founded in 1927 as a District Home under legislation passed in 1918 by the General Assembly. The District Home legislation encouraged jurisdictions to join together to establish facilities for indigent persons who need a permanent home and also require assistance with daily living activities. Fairfax was one of five jurisdictions that agreed to participate in the District Home in Manassas.

The property, which is located on 54 acres, includes an original building from 1927, a 180-bed nursing facility, and two joint apartment-type buildings for 92 assisted living residents. The counties of Fairfax, Fauquier,

Fund 119 Contributory Fund

Loudoun and Prince William, as well as the City of Alexandria established the Northern Virginia Healthcare Center Commission in 1987. Each jurisdiction is represented by a member on the Commission.

The present nursing home, Birmingham Green Healthcare Facility, opened in May 1991. The nursing facility accepts residents who are eligible for long-term care Medicaid and who are referred by the five participating jurisdictions. In Fairfax, social workers from the Department of Family Services screen and refer eligible individuals. A few persons are admitted for only rehabilitation and their care is paid for by Medicare or private insurance. For diversification of funding, but in keeping with the mission of serving indigent persons, a limited number of persons who pay privately are admitted.

The old District Home, a licensed assisted living facility, adjacent to the nursing facility, now accepts private pay residents with moderate incomes. The District Home continues to operate under the auspices of the Commission. This facility provides room and board, along with assistance in activities of daily living for older adults and adults with disabilities.

Willow Oaks, a 92-unit licensed assisted living facility replaced the original 64-bed District Home in 2008. Funding for the new facility was primarily provided through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. As with the nursing facility, individuals are referred by the five participating jurisdictions. To be admitted, individuals must be eligible for auxiliary grants, which supplement the individuals' incomes. Medicaid provides for needed medical care.

Operating costs for Birmingham Green are partially covered through the Medicaid and General Relief programs at the maximum rates established by the state. To the degree that these funds, along with some additional funds from Medicare, other insurance, and private pay, are inadequate to cover the full costs of the operation of the facility, the sponsoring jurisdictions then subsidize Birmingham Green on a user formula basis. Each jurisdiction pays for Personnel Services and Operating Expenses at a level proportionate to the number of the jurisdiction's residents.

The total FY 2012 Fairfax County recommended funding for these facilities is $2,165,918, an increase of $318,157 or 17.2 percent over the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan based on actual costs and utilization rates at the facility.

Volunteer Fairfax is a private, nonprofit corporation created in 1975 and incorporated in the Commonwealth of Virginia. The center promotes volunteerism through a network of over 700 nonprofit agencies by mobilizing people and other resources to improve the community. Its primary goals are: to assist private nonprofit and public agencies in developing strong, efficiently managed organizations and volunteer programs; to increase corporate and citizens' direct involvement in the community; to provide programs and services through partnerships that contribute to the resolution of community issues; and to increase the public's awareness of both the need for and the benefits of volunteer service to the community. The scope of the center's work also includes active participation in emergency preparedness activities and coordination through its support of the Citizen Corps, the County's Emergency Management Coordinating Council and Emergency Operations Center, the Northern Virginia Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster, and the Metro Coalition of Volunteer Centers.

The center receives funding from Fairfax County as its sole local government source. In addition to the annual contribution, Fairfax County provides in-kind office space to the center at 10530 Page Avenue, the value of which is estimated to be $53,000. The Fairfax County FY 2012 funding amount is $305,247, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

Established in 1964, the Arts Council of Fairfax County is a private, nonprofit organization whose goals are to encourage, coordinate, develop and meet the needs of County residents and organizations for cultural programs. It develops and maintains a broad range of visual and performing arts programs designed to contribute to the growth of an integrated area-wide cultural community. It also supports and encourages the development of local artists and organizations by providing opportunities to reach new audiences through participation in Arts Council-sponsored activities.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution is $231,694, an increase of $50,000 or 27.5 percent over the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan of $181,694. The additional funds will be used for the planning and implementation of a Master Arts Plan for Fairfax County spearheaded by the Arts Council. The County's contribution represents 15.9 percent of the total projected revenue of $1,459,936. In addition, as noted later, funding of $444,125 for a Challenge Arts Grant program is included for FY 2012.

Fairfax County made its first contribution to the Udvar-Hazy Center of the Smithsonian Institute's Dulles Air and Space Museum in FY 2000 and has provided a total of $2,730,000 through FY 2010. Since the museum opened in December 2003, over 7.1 million people have visited the center, which generates tourism income to the area. A sample showed that nearly 9 percent of visitors to this facility come from abroad, while 46 percent of the domestic audience drove over 100 miles to visit the center. This translates into overnight stays in the region, with the increased likelihood of visits to other nearby attractions.

Education is a vital part of the mission of the Center. There are classrooms and expanded programs for educators and students, particularly those from Fairfax County. The goal is to teach young people about America's aviation and space heritage, and emphasize the importance of technology.

The FY 2012 funding included for the Dulles Air and Space Museum is $100,000, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan. The County's FY 2012 contribution will continue to support the construction of Phase II of the Center, which will include the Restoration Hangar, the Archives and Collections Processing Center, and the Collections Storage area. As part of the FY 2005 Carryover Review, the Board of Supervisors approved funding to support the Lorton Arts Foundation (LAF) financing and capital renewal plan for operation of a center for the arts at the former Lorton Prison site. The Board had previously approved the negotiation of a lease of the former prison site with the Foundation, which proposed to use funds generated by leasing the various facilities to individual artists and performing arts groups. The Board agreed to provide a dollar for dollar match of donations and contributions received through private fundraising, up to $1,000,000 per year through FY 2011, for maintenance support. The County also agreed to lease back a portion of the rental space if other tenants were not available, for a timeframe and lease rate to be negotiated between the County and LAF. The lease provides for reducing or eliminating the County's cash support commensurate with the Foundation's ability to become self-sustaining.

Phase I of the Foundation's plan is now complete and has been in operation since September 2008. It consists of the Workhouse Arts Center, including artists' studios, art gallery, exhibition space, administrative offices, and performing arts studios. Phase II of the improvements will include artists' residences, theater, restaurants, visitor and community heritage center, a museum, music barn, and performing arts center.

In March 2010, an amendment to the financing documents between the County and LAF was negotiated. The County agreed to provide, subject to annual appropriation, contingent annual operating deficit support to LAF not to exceed $750,000 in any given year through 2025.

Funding of $750,000 is included for FY 2012, which is a decrease of 25.0 percent from the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

The Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority (NVRPA) is a multi-jurisdictional, special-purpose agency established to provide a system of regional parks for the Northern Virginia area. The NVRPA currently operates 21 regional parks and owns over 11,000 acres of land, of which more than 7,700 acres are in Fairfax County. Parklands within the system include: Bull Run, Bull Run Marina, Fountainhead, Sandy Run, Pohick Bay, Carlyle House Historic Park, Potomac Overlook, Upton Hill, Algonkian, Red Rock, the W&OD Trail, Occoquan, Hemlock Overlook, Cameron Run, Gateway, Meadowlark Gardens, Ball's Bluff, Temple Hall, Brambleton, Aldie Mill and Blue Ridge Park. In addition, the NVRPA administers extensive regional historic and conservation properties throughout Northern Virginia. These community resources are supported primarily from the annual contributions of its six member jurisdictions: the counties of Fairfax, Loudoun and Arlington, and the cities of Fairfax, Alexandria and Falls Church. Each member jurisdiction's contribution is in direct proportion to its share of the region's population. In the past decade, the entire population served by the NVRPA grew to 1.7 million residents and is expected to approach 2.0 million by 2020.

Fund 119 Contributory Fund

Current projections indicate that $4,350,964 will be expended from the NVRPA's General Fund and $14,821,475 will be expended from the NVRPA's Enterprise Fund for a total of $19,172,439 in FY 2012. The NVRPA is asking member jurisdictions for $3,440,267, which is consistent with FY 2011. For FY 2012, NVRPA projects that 82.1 percent of operating costs will be funded with park revenues, with the remaining 17.9 percent coming from member jurisdictions. Fairfax County's contribution to the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority in FY 2012 is $1,979,537, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution amount.

It should be noted that in addition to the operating contribution, an amount of $3,000,000 has been included in Fund 306, Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority, as the FY 2012 annual capital contribution.

The partnership was founded through a gift of land to the United States Government. The National Park Service maintains the property and conducts parking and audience management.

The Foundation, with a $29.0 million budget, is responsible for all other aspects of running the facility, including the presentation of a wide variety of performances and educational programs. Foundation programs reach approximately 600,000 people in Fairfax County each year at two sites: the Filene Center, a 7,000-seat outdoor amphitheater in a park-like setting, and the Barns of Wolf Trap, two 18th Century barns reconstructed at Wolf Trap using original building materials and techniques.

In FY 1999, Fairfax County began to contribute funding to Wolf Trap to support the Foundation's efforts to provide Fairfax County citizens with access to the best possible performing arts, as well as position Fairfax County nationally as a leader in the arts and arts-in-education. Educational programs focusing on Fairfax County's young children and their teachers, parents and caregivers include development workshops for teachers, family involvement workshops, and field trip performances. In September 2007, the Board of Supervisors designated three non-profit organizations as contributory agencies in order to further assist the County in achieving a tree canopy goal of 45 percent, requiring the community to plant millions of trees over the next 30 years. In accordance with this effort, funding was approved for the Center for Chesapeake Communities, a nonprofit organization that helps provide local governments with tools to protect their own natural resources and the Chesapeake Bay, with the recognition that actions at the local level, from land use planning to stream protection, greatly affect the Bay.

Fund 119 Contributory Fund

The Center's goal is to provide localities with the information, education and training that supports sustainable development practices that protect the Bay. The central principle of the Center is that economic, social and environmental goals can be achieved simultaneously if systems, policies and procedures are designed to work interdependently. To help achieve that, the Center maintains a clearinghouse of models, tools and strategies pertaining to stormwater management, site planning, and pollution prevention that local governments are successfully implementing. The Center also holds topic-specific training sessions where local government officials can hear about the latest environmental protection techniques. The Center also helps to put local government experts in touch with each other to share expertise and experiences on resource protection, planning, and management.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $29,070, which is consistent with the FY 2011 funding level. County funding will assist the Center in developing a tree canopy tracking mechanism that will be used as a regional model to report tree planning for the regional Air Quality Management Plan.

Earth Sangha	$17,000	$16,150	$16,150	$16,150

In September 2007, the Board of Supervisors designated three non-profit organizations as contributory agencies in order to further assist the County in achieving a tree canopy goal of 45 percent, requiring the community to plant millions of trees over the next 30 years. In accordance with this effort, funding was approved for Earth Sangha, an environmental nonprofit organization committed to helping people become better stewards of the planet by providing numerous volunteer opportunities involving environmental work.

Notably, Earth Sangha supports a native forest gardener network which produces, conserves and restores native plants of the Washington, DC metropolitan area. This program aims to produce batches of seedlings that are genetically diverse, locally adapted and representative of the native forest flora. Volunteer opportunities involve planting the native seedlings, shrubs, wild flowers, grasses and trees in local parks, fields, and forests. Earth Sangha partners with the Fairfax County Department of Public Works and Environmental Services and the Fairfax County Park Authority on several planting events throughout the County, including at Wilburdale Park in Annandale, Waverly Park in Vienna, Frying Pan Park in Herndon, and Sully Historic Park in Chantilly, among others.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $16,150, which is consistent with the FY 2011 funding level.

The History Commission was created by the Board of Supervisors in 1969 to advise County government and generally promote the public interest in matters concerning the history of Fairfax County. There are 20 members who are appointed by the Board of Supervisors for three-year terms and who may be reappointed. The Commission advises the Board and County on matters involving the County's history; maintains an inventory of historic sites in the County; proposes and monitors historic districts and provides to local groups on matters of historic preservation. Major programs include: educational activities, cooperative ventures with local universities in local history activities, liaison functions with state/national historic preservation organizations, historic record indexing projects, archaeology programs and expansion of photographic archives.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $21,013, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan amount.

In accordance with this effort, funding was approved for Fairfax ReLeaf, a nonprofit organization of volunteers who plant and preserve trees and restore forest cover on public and common lands in Northern Virginia. Fairfax ReLeaf activities are aimed at preserving trees and offsetting tree loss by planting thousands of trees each year in order to improve air and water quality, reduce noise, preserve wildlife habitats, and reduce surface runoff. Since its founding in 1992, Fairfax ReLeaf has planted over 100,000 trees in the Counties of Fairfax, Loudon, and Prince William.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $41,990, which is the same as the FY 2011 funding level.

The GRCC's Incubator Program assists entrepreneurs in developing high-growth businesses in various sectors of the regional economy including technology, government services and supporting industries. The program provides business services, technical support, and physical space to help emerging businesses grow. Job creation and increased regional prosperity are the program's primary goals. This volunteer-driven program has helped 47 companies over the past 10 years, created over 450 jobs in the region, attracted over $45 million in investment, and occupied in excess of 80,000 square feet of commercial space in Fairfax County.

Northern Virginia Community College	$91,110	$90,181	$90,181	$89,856

Northern Virginia Community College (NVCC) is a comprehensive institution of higher education offering programs of instruction generally extending not more than two years beyond the high school level. The College currently has six campuses (Alexandria, Annandale, Loudoun, Manassas and Springfield for medical education and Woodbridge) with permanent facilities constructed on each site. Each year, the College serves more than 60,000 students in credit-earning courses and more than 25,000 students in continuing education and training activities.

NVCC projects FY 2011 expenditures of $246,968 for base operating requirements to be funded with $187,429 from local jurisdictions. This amount includes $214,792 for General Administration (President's Office, College Board travel and memberships, student scholarships, loans, and grants), $18,000 for Community Services (community information), and $14,176 for a contingency reserve. The base, which is funded by the governing bodies of the local jurisdictions served by the College, as well as any fund balances supports additional services that cannot be provided under the College's annual state fiscal appropriations. For example, local funding provides for increased matching loan funds and support of community service activities. This local funding is for Operating Expenses only and is not applied toward Personnel Services. The local jurisdictions served by the College are requested to contribute their share of the College's base expenditure, which is calculated on a per capita basis as reported by the College using population figures from the Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service.

The FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution to this agency for operations and maintenance is $89,856, a decrease of $325 or 0.4 percent from the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan, due primarily to shifts in population among the contributing jurisdictions. This amount reflects the County's share of the services provided to Fairfax County residents as reported by the College and is 47.9 percent of the local jurisdictions' contributions totaling $187,429 for FY 2012.

In addition, County funding of $1,554,710 is included in Fund 303, County Construction, for an annual capital contribution to the College based on a $1.50 per capita population figure provided by the Weldon Cooper Center. Funding provides for the continued construction and maintenance of various capital projects on college campuses within the NVCC system.

properties through the use of conservation/open space easements, land gifts and acquisition of open space. The Trust is also tasked with educating the public on the importance of conservation and the County's abundant natural resources through outreach programs. Through this partnership, NVCT has been able to permanently conserve over 650 acres in Fairfax County. Some of the conserved land serves as a habitat for a variety of rare species and different vegetation communities.

The Trust also operates an "Adventures in Conservation" outreach program to bring hands-on volunteerism and environmental education opportunities to the public. Some of the activities include planting thousands of native trees, removing invasive plants, and conducting birding trips and guided hikes. FY 2012 funding of $227,753 is included, which is the same as the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution.

The Northern Virginia Soil and Water Conservation District (NVSWCD) is an independent subdivision of the Commonwealth of Virginia to provide leadership in the conservation and protection of Fairfax County's soil and water resources. It is governed by a five-member Board of Directors, three of whom are elected every four years by the voters of Fairfax County and two who are appointed by the Virginia Soil and Water Conservation Board. Accordingly, the work of NVSWCD supports many of the environmental efforts set forth in the Board of Supervisors' Environmental Excellence 20-year Vision Plan. Technical assistance and information are provided to state and local government agencies as well as private citizens. The goal of the NVSWCD is to continue to improve the quality of the environment and general welfare of the citizens of Fairfax County by providing them with a means of dealing with soil, water conservation and related natural resource problems. It provides County agencies with comprehensive environmental evaluations for proposed land use changes with particular attention to the properties of soils, erosion potential, drainage and the impact on the surrounding environment.

Beginning in FY 2011, funding of the County share of the base operating requirements for NVSWCD is being provided in the newly created Fund 125, Stormwater Services. The FY 2012 contribution included in Fund 125 is $429,293.

Occoquan Watershed Monitoring Program	$112,559	$0	$0	$0

The Occoquan Watershed Monitoring Program (OWMP) and the Occoquan Watershed Monitoring Laboratory (OWML) were established to ensure that water quality is monitored and protected in the Occoquan Watershed. Given the many diverse uses of the land and water resources in the Occoquan Watershed (agriculture, silviculture, urban residential development, commercial and industrial activity, water supply, and wastewater disposal), the OWMP provides a critical role as the unbiased interpreter of basin water quality information. The cost of the OWMP is equally divided between water supply and sewage users. As a result, 50 percent of Operating Expenses is supported by the Fairfax County Water Authority and 50 percent by the participants: Fairfax, Fauquier, Loudoun and Prince William counties, and the cities of Manassas and Manassas Park. The Watershed Monitoring Program Funding Agreement of 1988 requires that Fairfax County provide 12.5 percent of the direct costs.

Beginning in FY 2011, funding of the County share for OWMP is being provided in the newly created Fund 125, Stormwater Services. The total amount included in Fund 125, Stormwater Services for Fairfax County's FY 2012 share is $112,559.

Southeast Fairfax Development Corporation	$192,968	$183,320	$183,320	$183,320

The Southeast Fairfax Development Corporation (SFDC) is a private, nonprofit organization that operates under a Memorandum of Understanding between the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors and the SFDC. Over the years, the Corporation has promoted, encouraged, facilitated and guided economic development and revitalization on the 7.5 mile length of Richmond Highway from the Capital Beltway to Fort Belvoir, the largest of the County’s seven designated revitalization areas. It provides marketing and promotion aimed at business attraction and retention; direct assistance to developers and businesses; and to a lesser degree, land use planning and coordination with the Richmond Highway community. It is this community consensus that makes revitalization/redevelopment possible. SFDC is committed to improving the quality of life, creation and retention of jobs, community appearance and increased tax base. Its 18-member volunteer Board of Directors is representative of the community.

SFDC continues to foster growth in existing businesses, while simultaneously promoting the physical renovation of the area through initiatives involving beautification, developmental planning, and ongoing market studies and needs assessments. SFDC sees an even greater need for its services as a result of the Department of Defense’s (DoD) Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) recommendations announced in May 2005. It is anticipated that over 19,000 DoD employees will be redeployed to Fort Belvoir and the Engineer Proving Grounds, with an additional 23,000 government contracting jobs also expected to relocate to the area. The total FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution for SFDC is $183,320, which is the same level as the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution.

As part of this agreement, the Board of Supervisors agreed to waive all development/regulatory fees and costs, and provide review and inspection services necessary for the development of this center. In addition to one-time FY 1996 sewer availability and connection charges of $70,881, the County agreed to contribute an annual amount of $50,000 toward the facility, to be paid each year for 20 years, commencing in FY 1995. The total value of this 20-year contribution will be $1,000,000.

The total FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution for the VPI/UVA Education Center is $50,000, which is consistent with the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

The Women's Center is a private, nonprofit organization that provides personal and professional development services to women in Northern Virginia. Since FY 1978, the Board of Supervisors has contributed to this center in order to provide free or sliding-fee scale services to Fairfax County female residents who are unemployed, separated, abandoned or divorced, and the head of a household. Services include individual and group workshop sessions for women covering such areas as divorce, separation, financial planning and legal rights.

In FY 2012, the Center anticipates receiving approximately 50,000 requests for services from County residents to meet the interrelated psychological, practical, legal and financial needs of these County residents, many of whom are financially disadvantaged and require low-cost services. Access to these services enables community members to become self-sufficient and ultimately more productive community members.

The total FY 2012 Fairfax County contribution is $27,023, which is the same as the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan contribution.

Fairfax Public Law Library	$92,657	$92,657	$92,657	$92,657

The mission of the Fairfax Public Law Library is to promote justice by providing all citizens with access to legal information. The legal resources available in the Law Library are not available to the public at any other single location within the County. In 2001, Fairfax County, the Clerk of the Court, and the Fairfax Bar Association (FBA) entered into an agreement with regard to the Law Library. The agreement provides that Fairfax County, through the Fairfax County Public Library (FCPL), shall have primary responsibility for the administration of the Law Library, while the FBA has primary responsibility for its management.

Currently located in the recently expanded Fairfax County Judicial Center, the Fairfax Public Law Library assists the public, as well as members of the legal community, with locating sources for legal information and provides bibliographic instruction. In addition to the collection, the Law Library has four work stations dedicated to providing general information on divorce, immigration, estate planning and employment for patrons, as well as five computer work stations where the public may access legal materials on CD-ROMs and online databases. In recent years, the Law Library has decreased its printed materials and increased subscriptions to online databases. The Fairfax Public Law Library anticipates to serve over 80,000 patrons in FY 2012. Many are in need of legal information because they are unable to afford legal representation but do not qualify for free legal services.

The total FY 2012 Fairfax County funding is $92,657, which is unchanged from the FY 2011 Adopted Budget Plan.

Contributory Fund Fund 703 - NOVARIS

Non-Appropriated Funds

Fairfax County exercises a fiduciary responsibility for the financial management and operation of the Northern Virginia Regional Identification System (NOVARIS). Therefore, this fund is displayed here for information. Participating Washington Metropolitan Area jurisdictions share costs associated with NOVARIS based on the sworn police population of each jurisdiction as approved by the NOVARIS Advisory Board on July 30, 1997.

The Fairfax County contribution is made through the Contributory Fund. The total Fairfax County FY 2012 contribution is $14,677, which represents the County's annual share of costs associated with operations and upgrades of NOVARIS. The NOVARIS Fund Statement is shown on the next page.

NOVARIS utilizes state-of-the-art computer equipment to identify criminals by categorizing and matching fingerprints. It enables police to match a fingerprint found at the scene of a crime with any individual who has been arrested in the Washington metropolitan area by comparing the print or partial print with all prints in the database. In FY 2010, 546,000 fingerprint cards were maintained in the system and the database, which helped to make 609 latent fingerprint identifications.

Funding of $4.57 million was secured through an Urban Areas Security Initiative (UASI) grant to cover the cost of Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS) system replacements and maintenance for the National Capital Region, including NOVARIS, the District of Columbia, as well as Prince George's County and Montgomery County. In FY 2010, NOVARIS was awarded additional Urban Areas Security Initiative (UASI) funding for the maintenance of the new system which reduced member jurisdictions' payments in FY 2011 and will continue to do so in FY 2012. Future grants will be explored to fund maintenance after FY 2012.
