New law effective July 1, 2004 makes arrests under this code reportable and requires that fingerprints be sent electronically via Live Scan resulting in an estimated 5000 additional fingerprints. A second law effective July 1, 2004 established mandatory minimum sentencing for DUI convictions in which no good time is earned. The new lower DUI BAC threshold will result in five day mandatory minimum sentences. This is projected to result in an increase in inmate ADP of 89.6 inmates per day based on DMB projections using ASAP staistics of individuals tested in prior years. The additional workload for these increases in inmate processes will be performed as much as possible within current funding adopted for this service area until additional staffing is approved.	$7,878,646	$0	$2,257,376	$432,732	$5,188,538	34 %	90

	County Transit System	Federal	Fairfax County operates the Fairfax Connector, which has federal mandate requirements. These mandates are primarily ADA requirements, such as wheel chair lifts and PA announcements, and EPA mandates, which require ULSD and particulate filters. Clean Air act 1990 Amendments require the Washington Metropolitan region meet emission standards for NOX and VOC. As part of that effort, Fairfax County is contributing by converting the Fairfax Connector bus fleet to use Ultra Low Sulfur Diesel 1. EPA has enacted stronger emission standards requiring all diesel engines to utilize ULSD by 2006, and stronger NOX emission standards to be phased in starting in 2007 through 2010.
