GREEN INFRASTRUCTURE IS THE FUTURE, START TRAINING FOR YOURS.

Sign up now to participate in the Green Infrastructure Construction, Inspection, and Maintenance Training.

Fairfax County, VA along with Montgomery County, MD, is sponsoring an upcoming training class aimed at preparing participants to perform jobs as green infrastructure construction, inspection, and maintenance workers. This training will meet one of the eligibility requirements for the first National Green Infrastructure Certification Program (NGICP) exam taking place on December 13, 2016. The training is free. Fairfax County will be applying for CEU credit for attendees that are certified stormwater inspectors through Virginia DEQ.

Training Location

Fairfax County DPWES MSMD Training Center
10635 West Drive
Fairfax, VA 22030
November 28 – December 2, 2016

TRAINING GOALS

- Transfer knowledge and skills to participants to prepare them to work on upcoming green infrastructure projects.
- Help ensure that green infrastructure projects are installed and maintained properly to support long term performance.

BENEFITS OF TAKING THIS EXAM

- The fees for the December exam have been paid for by the NGICP Partner Organizations
- Successful candidates will be the first to be certified in NGICP
- The NGICP certification is a nationwide credential
