Re: James Campbell Company, LLC's Request for Consideration of Transit-Oriented
Reston Master Plan Text Language on Property Consisting of Approximately 10.56
Acres, Identified as Tax Map 17-3-083A-0002A, -0002B, Zoned I-4 in Reston.

Dear Ms. Nicoson:

On behalf of James Campbell Company, LLC ("Campbell"), owner of approximately 10.56 acres located off of Edmund Halley Drive in Reston, I would like to propose that the Reston Special Study Task Force include the Campbell campus in your deliberations. We had the pleasure of meeting with the Town Center Committee on June 1, 2010, to discuss our vision for the campus as a transit-oriented development immediately adjacent to the southern platform entrance of the Reston Parkway Metro Station.

The property is located on Edmund Halley Drive immediately south of the Toll Road and directly next to the planned Metro kiss-and-ride facility. The entire property is located within ¼-mile of the station area. See enclosed graphic. The property is zoned to the I-4 (Industrial Medium Intensity) zoning district, which provides for a maximum intensity of .50 FAR by right and a .70 FAR by special exception. There are two office towers located on the northern half of the property, with the balance of the property consisting primarily of surface parking lots. The first building at 2002 Edmund Halley Drive, known as "Phase I" consists of 154,375 square feet and was constructed in 1986. The first building at 2000 Edmund Halley Drive, known as "Phase II" consists of 156,375 square feet and was constructed in 1987.

Given its prime location at the foot of the future Metro station, and the relative ease with which the existing surface parking areas could be converted into residential and other uses, the property is ideally situated to become a premier transit-oriented development. I would therefore
