Park Authority Publishing Annual Report Online

The Fairfax County Park Authority has published the agency’s Fiscal Year 2013 Annual Report. The publication is available online at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/parks/annualreport/. The report provides highlights and recent accomplishments which illustrate the agency’s commitment to doing it right. It provides a snapshot in time for agency initiatives and projects through narrative and photographs.

Fiscal Year 2013 was a challenging time; however, the Park Authority continued to provide an ever-growing customer base with new and renovated facilities, expanded programs, quality summer camps and classes, community concerts and state-of-the-art synthetic turf fields. Similarly, the agency made headway in its commitment towards stewardship of natural and cultural resources and educational and interpretive opportunities. The report touches on items from every division as well as Golf Enterprises and the Park Foundation. The report also links to important documents, gives a look at parks by the numbers and lists important contact information.

The report also looks into the crystal ball and introduces new issues and programs on the way. Park Authority Board Chairman Bill Bouie summed it up when he said, “We are pleased that so many people want to make us an integral part of the quality of life in Fairfax County. And although this presents many, many challenges, we feel that we are up to the challenge and doing it right.”
