Oak Hill Opens Its Doors to the Public

Come celebrate the past at Oak Hill History Day on Saturday, September 26, 2015 from noon until 4 p.m. Historic Oak Hill is a privately owned 18th-century Georgian-style home, and is all that remains of the Ravensworth Tract – totaling more than 22,000 acres – dating from the 1670s. Fairfax County Board of Supervisors Chairman Sharon Bulova, Braddock District Supervisor John C. Cook and the Fairfax County Park Authority are working closely to sponsor the open house this year. This event is free to the public.

This weekend's open house celebrates Oak Hill's history and connection to Thomas Jefferson. During the tour, guests will hear presentations on Oak Hill history and architecture, stories of what it was like to live there and information regarding Thomas Jefferson's visit to the house in April 1804. Guests will also learn about Revolutionary War era music with a U.S. Army Old Guard ensemble performance. Free refreshments will be provided by Annandale High School Culinary Arts program.

Oak Hill Mansion is located at 4716 Wakefield Chapel Road in Annandale. Parking will be offsite at 4414 Holborn Ave. at the Nancy Sprague Technology Center in Annandale. A free shuttle bus service will provide visitors with convenient transportation.
