Community Celebrates Diversity

Culmore Multicultural Day Returns in April

Fairfax County is a melting pot of cultures from around the globe. The diversity of ethnic backgrounds found here is special and something to be celebrated. And that's exactly what's planned for Saturday, April 18, 2015 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Woodrow Wilson Library in Falls Church. Culmore Multicultural Day is an annual community building event that fosters understanding and acceptance of different cultural heritages. The colorful event is fun for people of all ages, and admission is free.

Children will enjoy face-painting and the Fun Bus where kids can play games; arts and crafts tables will let them explore their creative sides. Non-profit and government agencies will staff over 30 resource tables where people can speak with experts and community leaders. Live musical performances will fill the air with Latin beats and line dancers and spinning folk dancers will keep step. Representatives from local police and fire stations will share important safety information. Prizes will be given away throughout the day.

This event is presented by the Culmore Multicultural Day Planning Committee, as well as partners such as the Fairfax County Park Authority. Woodrow Wilson Library is located at 6101 Knollwood Drive in Falls Church, VA. For information contact Wangin Bang at 703-324-8514.
