Groundbreaking Set for January 30th

McNaughton Little League Complex Construction to Start

Groundbreaking ceremonies are scheduled at noon on Saturday, January 30, 2016 for the Fairfax County Park Authority's major renovation of the baseball fields at McNaughton Park in Alexandria, Virginia. The public is invited to these brief ceremonies featuring local officials, members of the Park Authority Board and the athletic community.

This Fairfax County park has been home to the Woodlawn Little League (WLL) since the 1960s, and the baseball complex is in need of major upgrades in order to meet current athletic field standards. Work will include the demolition of the four existing fields and facilities, site re-grading and construction of four new lighted and irrigated diamond fields – a 90-foot diamond, one 60/70-foot diamond with a grass infield, one 60/70 diamond with a skinned infield and one 60-foot diamond with a skinned infield. Amenities will include covered dugouts, bullpens, batting cages, bleachers and fencing. A 173-space parking lot will also be added. This will be a state-of-the-art facility that meets the needs of young athletes for years to come.

Utility connections will also be provided for future restrooms and a concession stand. This will allow for a Park Authority partnership with WLL for construction of these additional facilities when funding becomes available.

Scheibel Construction, of Huntingtown, MD, will be completing the work. The total project is estimated at $4.4 million and will be funded through the 2008 and 2012 Park Bonds. Work is expected to be completed by December 2016 with the fields reopening for play in April 2017. This long awaited project will create another desirable place to play, stay healthy and ultimately thrive in Fairfax County - all tenets of the county's strategic plan for economic success.

McNaughton Park is located at 5320 Pole Road, Alexandria, VA.
