Why Not Volunteer for Watershed Cleanup Day?

Spring is time to clear earth's arteries. They get clogged by bottles, cans, tires and other things that gets tossed carelessly or inadvertently. Volunteer for some time in the great outdoors doing a great thing.

Watershed Cleanup Day is Saturday, April 2, 2016. Join other Fairfax County residents, including families, scouts, students and community groups in cleaning up the county's waterways and preventing trash from reaching the Chesapeake Bay.

It's a pretty simple thing to do. Climb into some boots and old clothes, slip on some gloves, and head to one of the designated cleanup sites. Trash bags and appreciation will be provided. After a quick morning meeting to organize things, off you go to fill your bags with stuff that doesn't belong in the creek.
