

In Fairfax
Every season is beautiful
Winter invites snow
To blanket the Oakton Community Park where kids sled
Spring paints everything green
So, kids can frolic around in Borge Street Park
Summer heats Fairfax Lake
To bring friends together to kayak and fish
Fall comes early in Blake Lane Park
Turning the ground into a palette of warm hues
All is done by mother nature
Blooming the flowers so that they tickle our nose
Tending the trees so that they reach the sky
Luring the birds to chirp with delight
Inviting the insects to buzz around
Making our community fit and happy
As we breathe in the crisp and clean air
We can feel the love and care of the park helpers
Preserving the nature
So, we can call it home
