Fairfax County sponsored teen centers and after school programs are perfect places for young people. They provide safe places for young people to meet and connect with diverse and energetic peers. Teenage years are a pivotal time in every child's life, and it's important that they are given the opportunity to identify and explore their strengths and to develop their unique interests. Joining a teen center and/or participating in an after school program allows young people to do so in a supervised, structured, and enjoyable environment. Our staff members are positive role models who provide young people with the skills necessary to make good decisions and to improve their personal resiliency. Whether you need a safe place for your teens to go after school or you just want them to get out and have fun, and meet new friends, Fairfax County Teen Centers and After School programs are the way to go.

Fairfax County offers more than 15 teen programs throughout the county. Registration is the first step towards participation. Registration is free and most of the programs are free. If you are in grades 6 through 12 and live in Fairfax County, you can participate in a Teen Center program.

Fairfax County, in partnership with Fairfax County Public Schools (FCPS), offers after school programs for students in all 26 FCPS middle schools. For a list of specific school programs or for more information about the after-school program opportunities, please visit online at www.fcps.edu/supt/activities/afterschool.htm.
