Sully District e-Newsletter

In an effort to help area non-profit organizations and local governments learn more about the federal grant process, Rep. Frank Wolf (R-10th) will host a conference on applying for federal grants January 29 in Loudoun County.

The conference is free and open to any non-profit organization or local government in the 10th District. The conference will be similar to the grants workshop Wolf hosted last March and in the spring of 2004. Both were hugely popular, with more than 350 participants attending each of the workshops.

Representatives from the departments of Education and Health and Human Services have been invited to speak about grant writing and strategies for successful applications. The popular "Grants.gov" Web site also will be discussed.

The conference will begin 10 a.m. at the Loudoun County Public School Administration Building, 21000 Education Court, Ashburn, Virginia. Attendance is limited to the first 400 people to register.

Groups interested in attending can contact any of Wolf's offices or register online at www.house.gov/wolf. Click on "Grants Conference."

To contact Wolf's offices by phone, call Washington (202) 225-5136, Herndon (703) 709-5800, Winchester (540) 667-0990 or 1-800-945-9653.
