

U.S. Census Bureau American Community Survey
2016 Data for the 65+ Population
Fairfax County, Virginia

In 2016, poverty in Fairfax County was defined by the federal government as an individual earning less than $12,060 per year or a family of four with an annual income of less than $24,600. This equates to 66,681 (or 5.9%) of Fairfax County residents living in poverty, and 9,156 (or 6.6%) of Fairfax County residents over 65 living in poverty. Below is information comparing the poverty rates of Fairfax County seniors (defined as an individual over 65) to that of Fairfax County's general population.

