Response to Questions on the FY 2017 Budget

Request By: Chairman Bulova

Question: Please provide information about the cost of establishing the Office of the Independent Police Auditor as recommended by the Ad Hoc Police Practices Review Commission.

Response: For the Independent Police Auditor function, the County's Office of Financial and Program Auditor was used as a budget model, pending additional Board discussion on the scope, function, etc. of the office. The FY17 Advertised Budget Plan includes $378,512 for the Office of the Financial and Program Auditor, which primarily reflects the cost of three positions (the Auditor, a Management Analyst (MA) IV, and a MA II) as well as associated operating costs. Fringe Benefits are not included in this total. To provide flexibility, a range of $300,000-$500,000 for an Independent Police Auditor's office has been estimated.

It should be noted that additional facets of the Independent Oversight and Investigations subcommittee recommendations, including, but not limited to, the creation of a civilian panel, the provision of two independent criminal investigators in the Office of the Commonwealth's Attorney, and two additional Internal Affairs Detectives to provide support, conduct follow-up work, etc. are not included in the total noted above. It is difficult to know the exact costs of these functions until the Board provides additional feedback on the scope and functionality required; however, a total of $1.1-$1.7 million for Independent Oversight and Investigations subcommittee-related recommendations is currently estimated.

As part of the FY 2017 Advertised Budget Plan, the County Executive has included a placeholder of $7.5 million to begin funding the recommendations of the Ad Hoc Police Practices Commission/Diversion First. Of this total, $5.1 million is anticipated to be directed in support of Diversion First in FY 17, leaving the balance of $2.4 million for other Ad Hoc Police Practices Review Commission-related requirements. The Board's Public Safety Committee will identify priorities and make the final determination for allocating these funds.

Response to Questions on the FY 2017 Budget

Request By: Supervisor Hudgins

Question: FY 2008 marked the first year of the Neighborhood Enhancement Partnership Program. Throughout Fairfax County, communities came together to improve their community and initiate long-term community enhancement projects. The last year of funding was FY 2015. Please provide a list of Neighborhood Enhancement Partnership Program grant projects by year, district, and grant amount used.

Response: The Neighborhood Enhancement Partnership Program (NEPP) began in FY 2008 as a way to increase resident participation in civic engagement and expand neighborhood beautification efforts through partnerships with community Homeowner's Associations, civic organizations and nonprofit organizations with strong ties to neighborhood groups. The NEPP combined the talent, creativity and resources of County residents and the resources of the County government to tackle projects that would improve and revitalize communities and invest in the long-term sustainability and safety of Fairfax County neighborhoods. From FY 2008 through FY 2015, approximately $100,000 in County funding was made available annually to community organizations through a competitive application process. Projects were evaluated and ranked based not only on the need that was addressed, but also on how well the proposed project encouraged neighborhood participation and fulfilled one or more County Vision Elements. Individual organizations were awarded up to $5,000 on a one-time basis for selected projects, with a 25 percent match requirement from the organizations, which could be in the form of cash or in-kind contributions such volunteer hours. Unspent awards were forfeited by the organizations at the end of the year. The NEPP was eliminated as part of the FY 2016 Adopted Budget Plan. The table below summarizes the total amount awarded and spent in each district from FY 2009 through FY 2015. See Attachment 1 for a complete list of projects by fiscal year and district.

Response to Questions on the FY 2017 Budget

Request By: Supervisor Herrity

Question: Please provide a detailed breakdown of the fringe benefit cost by employee type similar to the WABE analysis <http://www.fcps.edu/fs/budget/wabe/2015.pdf> on page 46. Include all costs of benefits provided by the County but not the school system. Also include an estimated cost for the vacation, sick leave, and holiday benefits provided as a part of the compensation package, where applicable.

Response: The charts on the following pages provide County fringe benefit information for four major employee groups (General County Employees, Uniformed Fire and Rescue, Uniformed Sheriff, and Uniformed Police) consistent with that included in the latest WABE (Washington Area Boards of Education) guide available at <http://www.fcps.edu/fs/budget/wabe/2016.pdf>. Average salaries listed below are base salaries only for full-time employees as of March 2016. Retirement rates listed are for FY 2016 while other rates are those for CY 2015. It should be noted that the WABE guide uses family health insurance coverage for a point-of-service plan to provide consistent health insurance figures across jurisdictions. As the County no longer offers a point-of-service plan, the County's 90% Coinsurance Plan has been used as the closest approximation.

The WABE guide does not currently include estimated costs related to leave. The County offers several types of leave benefits, including annual, sick, compensatory, parental, volunteer, bereavement, and military. To provide estimated costs would require an analysis of accrual and usage trends, which would necessitate additional time. For example, some types of leave (volunteer, bereavement, parental) are offered to all employees but are not utilized by many. Other types of leave (annual, compensatory) are capped at the end of each calendar year based on years of service. Unused annual leave above year-end limits is converted to sick leave.

Response to Questions on the FY 2017 Budget

Request By: Supervisor Foust

Question: Please provide information on what is included in the $107 million for the Park Bond Referendum. In addition, please discuss the option of increasing this total by another $13 million (to a total of $120 million) for a County museum in Lorton. Include in the response a discussion of what happened the last time a museum proposal was brought forward as an option with George Mason University. Also include a discussion of the ongoing costs that a museum would have on the annual budget.

Response: The $107 million proposed for the Park Bond Referendum includes $94.7 million for the Fairfax County Park Authority and $12.3 million for the Northern Virginia Regional Park Authority. The most current FCPA list of potential projects totaling the $94.7 million is under review with the Park Authority Board and a draft is attached in this response. The Park Authority Board will be approving the percentages within the categories of Land Acquisition, New Park Development, Park Renovations and Upgrades, and Natural and Cultural Resource Stewardship.

The need for a Cultural Resource Collections Facility and County Museum to properly curate and showcase Fairfax County's history is not a new issue. For years these important initiatives have been discussed. During the recent 2016 Park Bond list development, the critical need for addressing these challenges became an important topic with the Park Authority Board, the Workhouse Foundation leadership, George Mason University and members of the Board of Supervisors.

Background

In 1995, the Fairfax County History Commission formed an ad hoc committee to study the need for space to store, exhibit, and manage the historical materials and artifacts in Fairfax County. At that time, there were 5,000 items in museum collections and 2 million items in the archaeological artifact collections. Based on the committee's findings, it was recommended that the Commission, "...encourage and support development of a facility for space to accommodate storage, exhibits, research accessibility and growth of the Fairfax area's historical materials and artifacts."

In 2003, following accreditation by the American Alliance of Museums (American Association of Museums), the Park Authority commissioned a study with an objective to define the requirements for a collections facility that met existing collections storage, processing and management needs of the county-wide collections and to address potential expansion for the next 25-30 year period. At that time, it was recommended that a 17,010 square foot facility would accommodate the existing collections storage (which included some public space for research, exhibit and meeting space). The 25-30 year outlook for space requirements was 30,445 square feet.

In 2006, a county committee was formed with community members (including George Mason University) to investigate the potential of creating a museum facility which would serve to interpret the history of Fairfax County by providing exhibit and educational/interpretive space possibly in partnership with a private, non-profit or similar organization. In 2009, the work of that committee was suspended due to the economic challenges. In 2012, several county organizations and George Mason University were pulled together to begin to discuss the museum once again. These discussions centered on what is to be the small Suffrage Museum space slated for Building 2 of the former Lorton Prison facility.

Current Situation

Today, the Park Authority is responsible for the curation of Fairfax County's 10,000+ items in the museum collections and over 3 million items in the archeological artifact collections. These items are currently stored in cardboard boxes in three different locations (James Lee Community Center, Walney Visitor Center and Ash Grove). A small number of the items are exhibited in locations that include the Sully Historic Site and Colvin Run Mill.

The collections have grown significantly over the past several decades and the capabilities of the existing storage areas has been far exceeded. Of concern is the ability to properly store the collections and display them for public viewing. As noted by the 1995 ad hoc committee, we are simply "warehousing our collections, not managing them".

Opportunity

The proposal for restoration of an existing facility in the Lorton Workhouse area at approximately 27,500 square feet is visualized as a joint archaeological and cultural resource storage and work area along with a public museum space component.

- Museum Space 7,500 square feet
- Archaeological and Cultural Resource work/storage space 20,000 square feet

The archaeological storage and work space would accommodate administrative space (staff workspaces, administrative equipment and storage space); research, education and public outreach space (research library, archives room, GIS mapping room, exhibit design space); and processing and storage of collections and associated functions (labs, curatorial workroom, curatorial storage, field staging, etc.).

The anticipated operating budget impact would occur in approximately 2020 following completion of the first and primary phase of the building. An anticipated start up budget would require moving existing collections and equipment into the new larger space which would be built with storage to appropriately curate the existing collections. Staffing levels would not increase beyond the current existing levels at that time. However, there will be start-up costs required for the new facility such as HVAC expense and archival storage and materials. Additional ongoing yearly operating costs for the archeological component are estimated at $50,000 - $100,000.

The museum space would accommodate the original vision of the 2006 Fairfax History Museum Committee which is to provide public space for exhibits, education and interpretation of the County's vast history. Using a current museum site for comparison, it is anticipated that the budget would be:

$300,000*	Personnel Costs
$100,000*	Operating Costs
$200,000	Exhibit Design/Fabrication/Installation (one-time cost)
$120,000	Revenue

*Combined Park Revenue Fund and General Fund expenses

Revenue would be derived from programs, public tours, school groups, scout groups and museum sales

(Staffing costs would increase at total Museum and Collections build out)

Estimated Initial Development Cost:

In 2019 dollars, the cost estimate for a 27,500 square foot Building Renovation/Reuse is: $15,700,000 (cost estimate based on applying construction escalation to a 2003 cost estimate provided as part of a Cultural Resource Protection Facility Building Program Study. Does not include cost for Museum Quality Displays and Fixtures, Furniture and Equipment.)

Annual Capital Renewal Investment: $137,500.

Consideration should be given to a phased approach.

Phase I

Propose to build 22,000 square foot for the collections storage and 2,000 - 3,000 square feet of museum space for exhibits and displays in Phase I at approx. $13,000,000. This would allow FCPA to appropriately curate/care for the county-wide collections, meet museum standards and entice the public with information/education on what collections are and why this part of history is so important to the county's present and future. The public would be able to view exhibits and displays that will be rotated continuously as well as researchers will be able to schedule time in the facility for their purposes.

Phase II

Phase II entails the completion of the museum area (remaining 5,500 – 4,500 square feet) which would serve primarily as an educational facility. With a phased approach, the county would have time to pursue partners (GMU, FCPS, etc.) to make a more sustainable and interesting project for the public. This would include tours, interpretive programming, camps, school groups and permanent exhibits.

Summation of 2003 Collections Needs Assessment Report: Collection Resource Protection Facility

- In 2003, the Fairfax County Park Authority commissioned a study with a consultant to define the requirements for a collections facility that met existing collections storage, processing and management needs of the county-wide collections and to address potential expansion for the next 25-30 year period.
- At that time, it was recommended that a facility totaling 17,010 gross square feet could accommodate the management and curation of the existing county-wide museum and archaeological collections.
- At the time of the report, there were 6,088 museum collection objects and 2,095,000 archaeological artifacts. (Currently, there are over 10,000 museum objects and over 3,000,000 archaeological artifacts).
- The consultant identified the conditions in which the collections were housed and described them as: dispersed in a number of buildings throughout the county (7 locations); overcrowding in storage areas with no room for growth; inadequate space for storage of equipment; climate control systems were not designed to meet preservation standards; and collections were stored in multi-purpose rooms rather than designated collection space.
- The consultant identified the technical requirements for collections facilities which included environmental control, building-wide security and fire protection and specialized electrical, plumbing and fume extraction systems. All of these requirements are industry standard for collections facilities. Essential functions of a facility were identified as administration, research, education, public outreach and processing and storage of collections.
- As a part of the Collections Needs Assessment, a report was also produced to consider three options for a potential facility:
 - Renovation of an existing building (20,500 gross square feet) at the former Lorton Correctional Facility
 - Construction a new 25,500 gross square foot facility
 - Construction of multi-phase construction project using a modular approach
- At the time, several issues were identified with the existing two story structure but the estimated cost was only $6.9 million as compared to a brand new facility which was estimated at $8.7 million. The multi-phase project was estimated to cost $2.3 million to house the existing museum collections in Phase I.
- The report stated that the projected growth of historic object collections over the next 25-30 years would be 100-200% and the growth of the archaeological collections at 100-125%. Therefore, they identified the long-term (25-30 years) space needs as 30,445 gross square feet.
