Most Common Reasons for Denial of a Concealed Handgun Permit

The most common reason for denial of a Concealed Weapon Handgun Permit, other than a criminal offense, is the failure of applicants to completely fill out question number three regarding length of residence on the application and/or the failure to answer all questions. Failure to answer all questions results in an "incomplete application".

Residency:

- If you have lived in your current home less than five (5) years, you must provide a separate listing of all addresses where you have lived within the last five years.
- The Police Department must be able to verify your residence.

Most Common Reason for Denial of a Concealed Handgun Permit continued:Application Incomplete:

- Failure to answer any questions on the application may result in a denial of your permit. Including 2nd part of question number four; scars, marks & tattoos.
- Any questions that do not apply to your situation would need to have an answer either of “N/A” or “not applicable”, if appropriate.

Competence with a Handgun

As part of the police background check it will be required that the applicant demonstrate competence with a handgun pursuant to §18.2-308.02 of the 1950 code of Virginia, as amended.

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2021, ALL new Concealed Handgun Applications require “IN PERSON” Competency Training Certification. On-line training is no longer an option if your application is filed after December 31, 2020, pursuant to Virginia Code Section §18.2-308.02\(B\). To avoid delay in the issuance of your concealed handgun permit, your training certification should state that the training course was “in person”.

A photocopy of a certificate of completion of any of the courses or classes; an affidavit from the instructor, school, club, organization, or group that conducted or taught such course or class attesting to the completion of the course or class by the applicant; or a copy of any document which shows completion of the course or class or evidence of participation in firearms competition shall constitute evidence of qualification under this subsection.

The applicant must demonstrate such competence in the following ways:

- Completing any hunter education or hunter safety course approved by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries or a similar agency of another state;
- Completing any National Rifle Association, or United States Concealed Carry Association firearms safety or training course;
- Completing any firearms safety or training course or class available to the general public offered by a law-enforcement agency, junior college, college, private or public institution or organization, or firearms training school utilizing instructors certified by the National Rifle Association, the United States Concealed Carry Association, or the Department of Criminal Justice Services;
- Completing any law-enforcement firearms safety or training course or class offered for security guards, investigators, special deputies, or any division or subdivision of law enforcement or security enforcement;
- Presenting evidence of equivalent experience with a firearm through participation in organized shooting competition or current military service (i.e., copy of active duty military ID) or proof of an honorable discharge from any branch of the armed services (i.e. copy of DD-214 Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty).

- Obtaining or previously having held a license to carry a firearm in this Commonwealth or a locality thereof, unless such license has been revoked for cause;
- Completing any firearms training or safety course or class conducted by a state certified, National Rifle Association-certified, or United States Concealed Carry Association-certified firearms instructor. The certificate should include the instructor's certification ID number;
- Completing any governmental policy agency firearms training course and qualifying to carry a firearm in the course of normal police duties; or
- Completing any other firearms training which the court deems adequate.
