

During the COVID-19 pandemic, CSB has transitioned mainly to telehealth services by phone or video. If visiting one of our locations, please call in advance, if possible. Visit our website (www.fairfaxcounty.gov/csb) for details.

Supporting people with developmental disabilities in our community

Who is eligible for developmental disability services?

To be eligible for CSB developmental disability services, an individual must meet the following criteria:

- Meet the definition of a developmental disability as defined in the Code of Virginia §37.2-100.
- Meet criteria on the Virginia Individual Developmental Disabilities Eligibility Survey \(VIDES\), an assessment tool that will be administered by CSB staff during the eligibility appointment.

How do I apply for services?

For all of the services listed below, please call 703-324-4400, TTY 711.

What kinds of services are available?

Support Coordination

- Determines eligibility for services.
- Provides central point of contact for individuals and their families to help develop a plan of services and supports that maximizes opportunities for successful community living.
- Explains services and choices, and advocates for individuals and families.
- Assists individuals and families in selecting preferred service providers and initiating services, including employment, day, and residential services.
- Coordinates and monitors service delivery and provides interdisciplinary team planning.

Day Support and Employment Services

- Provides employment or day support services through multiple private providers and various programs.
- Provides varying levels of training, support and assistance based on individual needs and preferences in a variety of work and day support settings.

Residential Services

- Provides residential services through multiple private providers and various programs.
- Offers center- and home-based respite services for caregivers and a subsidy program to help families pay for respite care.
- Contracts and collaborates with providers to ensure community access to varying levels of residential services based on individual needs and preferences in a variety of settings, from drop-in hours to intermediate care facilities