Multisystemic Therapy (MST) provides home-based treatment to children, youth, and family in their home and community. MST is appropriate for youth (ages 12-17) with significant clinical impairment in disruptive behavior, mood, and/or substance use. MST addresses core causes of delinquent and antisocial conduct by identifying key drivers of the behaviors through an ecological assessment of the youth, his or her family, school, peers and community. Intervention strategies are personalized to address the identified drivers of behavior. To provide MST services, Compass has partnered with MST Services, Inc. This partnership between MST Services Inc. and Compass ensures the implementation and efficacy of MST services being provided. Adherence to the MST model includes a quality assurance process that focuses on achieving outcomes through maintaining treatment fidelity and developing strategies to overcome barriers to behavior change.
