Dear Hunter Mill Friends,

On January 22, during the first Board of Supervisors (BOS) meeting in 2019, I was struck by the thought: I am beginning my twentieth year as Hunter Mill Supervisor with the mixed emotions of excitement and joy in serving the community and the reality that even good things must end. At that moment, I felt compelled to speak and share my intention not to seek re-election to be the Hunter Mill District representative. Believe me it was a difficult decision and an equally difficult announcement. However, I do intend to have a vigorous 20th year and continue to enjoy the kind of work that we've been able to do with this board.

One thing that will greatly contribute to a vigorous year is an improved public transit system, connecting the Metrorail system to Dulles International Airport and points in Loudoun County. I am excited to share that the first trains rolled along the Silver Line Phase 2 tracks around 1am on Wednesday, February 6. The test train traveled from Wiehle-Reston Station to Innovation Station at a speed of about 15 mph! There is an interesting story behind that spectacular speed. Because the third rail is not yet electrified for this test, the trains were pushed by a small diesel locomotive. Once the rail polishing phase - necessary to remove rust that can accumulate on unused rails - is complete, additional trains, equipped for Safe-Braking and Control-Line Communications trials, will begin the "dynamic testing" process. This is required before the rail line begins commercial operation.

This testing work, is a significant milestone and will continue for several months before public service commences in 2020.

Another area of significant relevance and impact is the environment. In 2017, the BOS adopted an Environmental Vision "to promote and encourage energy efficiency and conservation efforts and renewable energy initiatives by county employees, employers and residents." In 2018, the Board adopted an Energy Strategy for county operations with the goal of reducing "fossil fuel consumption through the application of innovative concepts & technologies." In 2019, the BOS is raising awareness of its achievements already made - two Solarize campaigns conducting free on-site solar assessments that led solar panel installations, totaling 398 kW - and the county commitment to a third campaign in the spring of 2019. With the assistance of the SolSmart program, we will do just that. SolSmart is a national designation program for solar friendly communities, their commitments, and their accomplishments.

Moreover, Fairfax County is committed to improve solar market conditions, making it faster, easier, and more affordable for residents and businesses to install solar energy systems. Currently, the county is considering the creation of a local Commercial Property Assessed Clean Energy (C-PACE) program. Depending on the ordinance language, a C-PACE loan could finance energy efficiency and renewable energy improvements on industrial, commercial, agricultural, multi-family, and non-profit/religious properties. So as you can surmise, it will be another busy year.

In closing, I would like to acknowledge that representing the Hunter Mill District continues to be challenging and thrilling and I am looking forward to a dynamic 2019 indeed. It is an on-going honor to serve and I fully intend to continue being engaged with the work of the community.

Shaping the Future Together: Fairfax County Launches Strategic Planning Effort

What does the future of Fairfax County look like? Fairfax County Government is beginning a strategic planning process with the community to share the future together. Our goal is to hear all voices and reach all segments of our community. What are the hopes and aspirations for the future of our community? What challenges do we face and what priorities must we address first?

This effort will span most of 2019, but in this first phase, the community is being asked to:

- Take a short five-question online survey
- Consider joining a community conversation in person between February 13 and March 6. Dates/registration are:
Monday, February 25, 7-8:30pm, Gum Springs Community Center (8100 Fordson Road, Alexandria)
Tuesday, February 26, 7-8:30pm, Little River Glen Senior Center (4100 Barker Court, Fairfax)
Monday, March 4, 7-8:30pm, Reston Community Center (2310 Colts Neck Road, Reston) NEW DATE!
Wednesday, March 6, 7-8:30pm, James Lee Community Center (2855 Annandale Road, Falls Church).
- Share the survey and conversation invitation with neighbors, co-workers and community family and friends.

"There's going to be one set of county priorities that will be generated by the community and staff and endorsed by the Board of Supervisors," explains County Executive Bryan Hill, who has made developing a countywide strategic plan a priority since his arrival in January 2018. Made in Fairfax Forum

To expand economic activity and build vibrant community centers, Fairfax County is exploring the potential of small scale production businesses - from locally-made goods, such as textiles and beverages to 3D printing and craft products - that could create new choices for consumers, job growth for residents and business opportunities for local entrepreneurs.

Please join us for our second Made in Fairfax Forum to hear from Ilana Preuss of Recast City - a national leader in the small-scale production industry - who will present findings and recommendations from a six-month study on how creative entrepreneurs and the County can work together to support this innovative blend of economic and community development. The forum is open to all residents, businesses and property owners/investors in Fairfax County. Small-scale producers are highly encouraged to attend.

This event will be held on Wednesday, February 20, 7-8:30pm, at the Fairfax County Government Center - Conference Room 9/10 (12000 Government Center Parkway, Fairfax). Please let us know if you can join us for this exciting event by clicking on the link - <https://made-in-fairfax.eventbrite.com>

50+ Community Survey Coming to Mailboxes in February

The governments of Fairfax County, Fairfax City and Falls Church want to make aging in our community as healthy and happy as possible. In order to measure current community perceptions so we can plan for a better future,, we are conducting a 50+ Community Survey. The Survey is for people over the age of 50. If you are in that age group, you might find a survey in your mailbox in early February.

Survey recipients are selected at random, but if you receive a copy, please complete and return it. This research will be vital in local efforts to plan, fund and enhance our community to make it more supportive of people 50 and over. More information can be found online at 50 plus Community Survey.

Tax relief for seniors and people with disabilities

Fairfax County provides real estate tax relief and vehicle tax relief to citizens who are either 65 and older, or permanently and totally disabled, and meet the income and asset eligibility requirements. Qualified taxpayers may also be eligible for tax relief for renters. Beginning in February, free tax relief workshops will be held to answer questions and assist taxpayers in applying for the program.

Workshops will be held in the Hunter Mill District in March:

Saturday, March 2, 9-11am at Town Hall Meeting - Frying Pan Farm Park Visitor Center

Wednesday, March 13, 10-noon at Vienna Community Center, 100 Cherry Street, Vienna

This session is co-sponsored by the Town of Vienna Department of Parks and Recreation

Thursday, March 21, 3-5pm at the North County Governmental Center, 1801 Cameron Glen Drive, Reston.

For a complete list of workshop schedule, information on the program, and required forms, please visit the tax relief website, or call 703-222-8234.

Reporting to Police

From Fairfax County Police

Fairfax County has a central dispatch for the police and fire and rescue. This means one number will connect you with emergency services.

Officers are NOT dispatched out of the District Station. In fact, if you call the District Station, you will be transferred to the dispatch call center for an officer.

The non-emergency number for Fairfax County is 703-691-2131. This number is for all suspicious activity reports, reporting a crime that has already occurred, and will give you access to the Community Reporting Service (CRS). CRS is a tele-reporting system for making a police report without the need for a police officer response.

You can also make a police report on line at www.fairfaxcounty.gov/police. Follow the link to find out what can be reported here.

911 is the number to call if you have an emergency, see a crime being committed, or someone is in immediate danger. You can also text 911 if you are unable to talk on the phone.

Social Media outlets like Facebook and Nextdoor.com are not monitored by FCPD 24/7 and are not reporting entities. If you see information that constitutes a crime on Social Media, please encourage the poster to contact the police to make a police report. In most instances, the police cannot see what is being posted and without a police report, that information will not be investigated.

Drug Take-Back Boxes Operational

Drug take-back boxes are now located in all eight Fairfax County police stations. Residents can now bring unused or unneeded medications to your local station for a safe, convenient, and responsible way of disposing of drugs. Help prevent medication abuse and theft by getting rid of potentially dangerous expired or unused prescription drugs.

Accepted items include prescription medication, prescription ointments, over-the-counter medications, and medications for pets.

Prohibited items include needles (sharps), liquids of any kind, illegal drugs, non-prescription ointments and lotions, aerosol cans, and inhalers.

Police stations in/near the Hunter Mill District include:

Reston Station - 1801 Cameron Glen Drive, Reston 703-478-0904

Fair Oak Station - 12300 Lee Jackson Memorial Highway, Fairfax 703-591-0966

McLean District Station - 1437 Balls Hill Road, McLean 703-556-7750

Contact the Police Property and Evidence Section at 703-246-2786 for questions.

Here's What to Do If You Get a Parking Ticket

Parking tickets - if you drive, chances are good you've received one at some point. We all make mistakes, and sometimes they result in tickets and fines. But what should you do if you find one of these waiting on your windshield? The County's NewsCenter's recent article outlines what to do in case you accept the charge or want to dispute the ticket. Community Emergency Response Guide

The Office of Emergency Management (OEM) is rolling out a Community Emergency Response Guide (CERG) that outlines strategies for residents to create and develop an emergency plan for their neighborhood in the event of a disaster or emergency. The guide will aid residents through preparedness activities and response actions using the "neighbors helping neighbors" mode. By using the guide, neighborhoods and communities will:

- Define their neighborhood
- Recruit leaders among their neighbors
- Understand the hazards and risks in their neighborhood and identify their community assets to help them response to, or recover from, a disaster
- Building their community team
- Develop strategies of how they will prepare for and respond to disasters in their neighborhood.

The Guide will be available online beginning 2/11/2019. OEM is available upon request to do community presentations - if you would like to schedule a presentation, call 571-35-000, or email to OEM-Outreach@fairfaxcounty.gov.

Transportation

Reston-Herndon Bus Service Meeting Rescheduled: February 19

Fairfax County Department of Transportation (FCDOT) has rescheduled a community input meeting in Herndon that was previously canceled due to inclement weather. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 19, 6-8pm, at the Herndon Senior Center (873 Grace Street, Herndon). The meetings will include interactive exercises to explore individual travel needs, issues and ideas, and will provide attendees an opportunity to give specific feedback on future Fairfax Connector service in the area.

Your input is part of a process to generate service improvement recommendations and an implementation plan for service changes, including connections to the future Metrorail Silver Line Phase 2 stations in Herndon and Reston. FCDOT's goals for this process include increased mobility, better access to destinations, improved travel times, increased schedule reliability, more effective transit operations, and increased ridership.

There are several ways to get involved and provide input:

- Attend an interactive community meeting - see details on the two meetings below.
- Fill out a five-minute online survey - Herndon-Reston Bus Service Review Survey
- Email your input to fairfaxconnector@fairfaxconnector.com
- Mail your comments to Fairfax County Department of Transportation, 4050 Legato Road, Suite 400, Fairfax, VA 22033.

Public input is accepted until 5pm on Friday, Feb. 15, 2019.

DMV2go to Visit Reston Town Center

Instead of traveling to the nearest Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) location, stop by the Reston Town Center Pavilion on Tuesday, February 26, between 9am and 4pm for access to all DMV services including driver's license and ID card applications and renewals, driving records, vehicle titles, license plates, decals, disability plates, hunting and fishing licenses, E-ZPass transponders, and more. Visit DMV2go for details

Slow Down Yard Signs

Fairfax County's "Slow Down: You Live Here. We Live Here" campaign aims to make people more alert of the dangers of neighborhood speeding. In past years, the County has allocated funds to address the speed issue from both educational and enforcement perspectives. Key among these is a neighborhood toolkit that includes yard signs with the campaign logo and a series of public service announcement videos for residents to show and share. The yard signs are available from the Office of Public Affairs. Email your request to 730fairfax@fairfaxcounty.gov, or stop by the Information Desk at the Government Center lobby, (12000 Government Center Parkway, Fairfax), or the Hunter Mill District Office (1801 Cameron Glen Drive, Reston) to pick up some signs. More information about the campaign, along with videos and resources, is also available online.

New to Hunter Mill District Staff: Gwenn Minton

Joining the staff of Supervisor Hudgins is Gwenn Minton. Gwenn will focus on human services, faith communities, health and housing issues. She has a background in housing and urban planning. Contact Gwenn at the North County Governmental Center, 703-478-0283, or gwendolyn.minton@fairfaxcounty.gov

Blessing Bags

The Greater Reston Chamber of Commerce Resourceful Women's Committee assembled "blessing bags" of hats, socks, gloves, cough drops, band aids, anti-bacterial wipes, hot hands and snacks. The bags were shared with the Reston Police to hand out to people in need they meet in the community.

Urban Soil Health

The soil is an often forgotten part of the ecosystem but is extremely important, especially for trees. Components of soil are minerals (sand, silt and clay), air, water and carbon (organic matter). Healthy soils are also teeming with life, most of which is microscopic (fungi, bacteria and nematodes). For example, many tree species rely on soil fungi called mycorrhizae which help them take up water and nutrients through their roots.

In urban environments, soils are often heavily disturbed and degraded due to construction of roads, buildings and houses. When soils are disturbed, they lose many of their beneficial characteristics resulting in reduced water filtration and less hospitable environments for soil-borne organisms and plant roots to grow.

Soils and their structure may take hundreds or even millions of years to form, so restoration after disturbance takes time and effort. The best strategy is to avoid disturbance which is usually not realistic in urban environments. However, there are a few relatively easy options that can help to restore soil quality:

- Apply organic matter (compost, leaf or wood mulch, manure) to mineral soils
- Cover areas of bare soil
- Retain existing plants and trees
- Plan diverse native plants and trees

These strategies help to reduce erosion, conserve water, hold onto soil and increase drainage. Incorporating diverse plants and trees encourages a diverse community of soil microorganisms which is a vital part of soil health. When soils are healthy, it has cascading positive effects on the ecosystem.

Consider having a soil test done to determine the pH, nutrient and organic matter content of your soil. Soil test are available from the Virginia Cooperative Extension. You can also learn what kind of soil you have by using Fairfax County's new soils view application.

31st Annual Potomac River Watershed Cleaning: Are You Ready? Organize a Cleanup in Your Community

You can make a difference in your community and contribute to the area-wide Potomac River watershed cleanup on April 13, 2019. The Alice Ferguson Foundation is providing training to help you organize in your area. The training will equip you with the tools to lead a successful community trash cleanup. Site leaders will leave with the skills to foster a transformative volunteer experience and the practical supplies to conduct a cleanup at your local park, neighborhood, waterway, street, or community center. Since 1989, volunteers have prevented more than 7 million pounds of trash from entering the Potomac River.

Upcoming training sessions will be:

February 16, 10am-noon, Cleveland Park Library - 3310 Connecticut Ave. NW, Washington, DC
February 23, 10am-noon, University of Maryland - 7814 Regents Drive, College Park, MD
March 2, noon-2pm, Central Library - 1015 N. Quincy Street, Arlington, VA.

Space is limited - RSVP to potomaccleanup@fergusonfoundation.org - please put "Site Leader Training" in the subject line. Or, call 301-292-5665.
