Welcome to the Summer 2013 Season (July – September 2013) of the Burke/West Springfield Senior Center Without Walls (CWoW). We continue to make wonderful progress as a community of seniors helping seniors in this public-private partnership that officially started with a pilot program in the summer of 2009.

2013 Programs. For the summer season, we look forward to an energetic and joyous set of physical fitness programs of line dancing, tai chi, yoga, square dancing, self-defense, and even hula dancing. We will grow our intellectual/educational/social programs with mah jong, Eclectic Readers book club, and cultural discovery programs with tours of partner organizations, like the Durga Temple and the New Covenant Korean Presbyterian Church, which is housed in a building constructed in 1891 to provide worship and respectful burial for the black community in the time of segregation in our Burke area of Fairfax County. We are also working on partnership with the historic Sydenstricker Schoolhouse originally built in 1902 and rebuilt in 1928 – the last one-room schoolhouse in operation in Fairfax County.

Thanks to our Volunteers. The Burke/West Springfield Senior Center Without Walls (CWoW) has succeeded because of the volunteers from senior participants in our programs who have served as class monitors, registrars, and in many other ways. We thank you and look forward to working with more volunteers in growing our innovative project that has expanded services for seniors in our community during a time of great budget challenges.

Thanks to Our Partners. Our partner organizations have been critical in donating facilities for our programs – and we deeply appreciate their support. We look forward to expanding our partnerships as we develop a strong Community Coalition for Seniors. This started in February 2012 with the leadership of Evan Braff and support of our Fairfax County Board of Supervisors, led by Chairman Sharon Bulova.

Fundraising Partnerships. This year we joined the umbrella group of the Fairfax County Friends of Senior Centers in raising funds to support/expand programs for county seniors. We have established a CWoW bank account to which your donations that are NOT tax-deductible are welcome – please write checks to: CWoW Advisory Council.

HAPPY 2013 AND PLEASE EMAIL ANY SUGGESTIONS FOR CWoW Advisory Council to corazongley@yahoo.com

Weather Policy: If Fairfax County Public Schools are closed or delayed for weather, Center Without Walls classes will be cancelled for the day.
