

Fueled by a Passion for the Past

Meet the Archaeology and Collections Branch

What We Do

This work is guided by:

Policy Manual

January 24,
Revised December

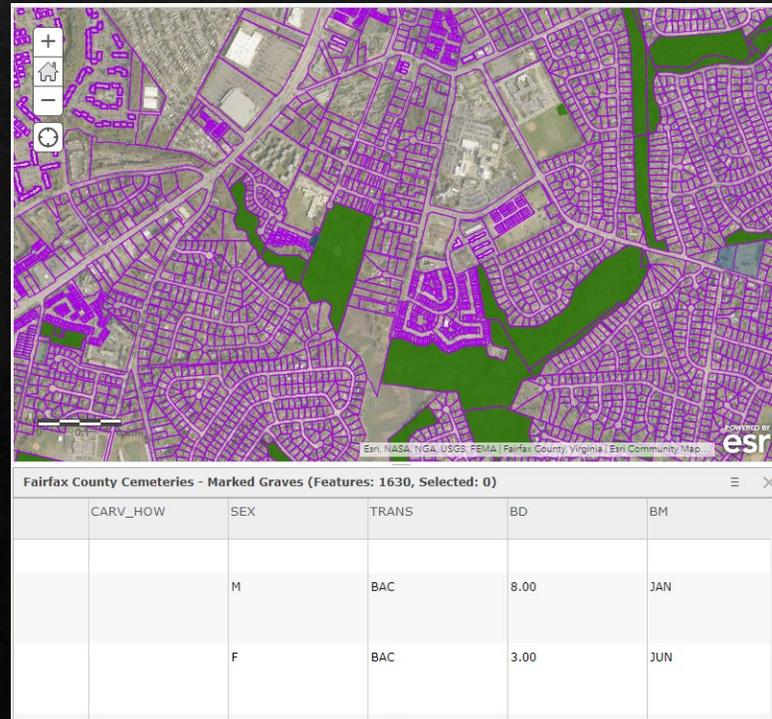

A Selection of Our Current Projects

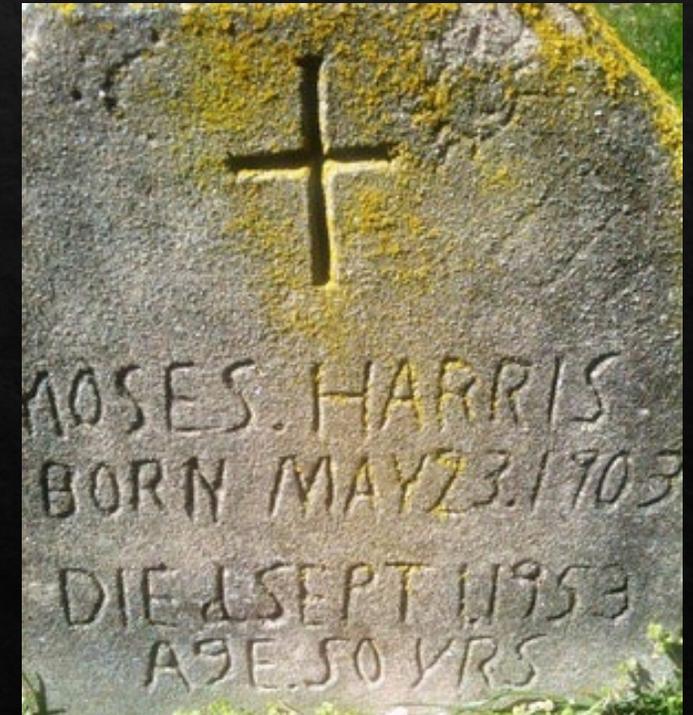

Riverbend Park-
comprehensive park survey

Data Enrichment
and GIS Integration

Fairfax County Cemetery
Survey

Who We Are:

Branch Manager: Dr. Elizabeth Crowell

Senior Archaeologist: Aimee Wells

Collections Manager: Kelsey Atwood

Assistant Collections Manager: Heather Hembrey

Staff Archaeologists: Dr. Alisa Pettitt, Elizabeth Paynter, Robin Ramey, Tyler Ball

Archaeological Lab and Field Staff: Daphne Ahalt, Colleen Boyle, Brittany Blanchard, Amanda Bengé

All In A Days' Work

Archaeology and Collections Branch staff work to identify and record archaeological sites, learn what the artifacts can tell us about Fairfax County's past, and then share it with a wide array of audiences- from youngsters at summer camps to professional symposia.

The mission of the Fairfax County Archaeology and Collections Branch is to preserve, protect, and interpret the cultural heritage of the County for the enjoyment and inspiration of current and future residents and visitors, and to nurture a sense of cultural resource stewardship.

