

2022 United States Disabled Golf Championship Open Comes to Fairfax County

Laurel Hill Golf Club is proud to host the 2022 United States Disabled Golf Championship Open, June 7-9. Now in its fifth year, this event is the first of its kind to obtain world rankings for golfers with disabilities by the United States Golf Association (USGA). The 54-hole championship is open to golfers with physical and intellectual impairments with qualifications similar to the Paralympics and Special Olympics.

Past tournaments have been held in Richmond, Virginia; Orlando, Florida and most recently, Longbow Golf in Mesa Arizona in 2021.

“Based on the number of Americans with disabilities, the number of golf courses we have in this country, and the popularity of the sport of golf, there is no way we cannot successfully organize competitions across the United States,” Jason Faircloth, Founder.

The US Disabled Golf Association is a 501(c)(3) Non-Profit founded in 2015 to organize and provide competitive golf opportunities for Americans with disabilities.

The Fairfax County Park Authority is excited to host this unique event in Fairfax County with support from the Fairfax County Park Foundation and Visit Fairfax.

The recognition highlights the state-of-the-art facilities open for year-around play. Partnerships with schools, community groups and like-minded organizations offer opportunities to grow the game of golf. Robust golf academies for families, women and youth cater to all levels to build their skills for play on the course.
