MODIFY: Fairfax County Comprehensive Plan, 2017 Edition, Area III, Bull Run Planning District as amended through 3-6-2018, Centreville Area and Suburban Center, Recommendations, page 24, as follows:

“Centreville Historic Overlay District

The Centreville Historic Overlay District (Figure 9) is located south of I-66 in the northeast quadrant of Lee Highway and Sully Road. Properties within the historic overlay district are located in Land Units B-2, B-3, B-4, B-5 and the Centreville Farms Area Land Units F and K as shown on Figure 8. The provisions of the Centreville Historic Overlay District (Appendix 1, A1-1300 of the Zoning Ordinance) have been adopted to protect Centreville’s historic structures and grounds and to control development and uses that would have visual impacts on the Centreville Historic District and its environs. All improvements should be designed to be compatible with the scale and appearance of historic resources of the Centreville Historic Overlay District. All development proposals must be reviewed by the Architectural Review Board as specified in Part 7-200 of the Zoning Ordinance. If there appears to be a conflict between Plan text and the provisions of the Centreville Historic Overlay District, the overlay district regulations take precedence for the development of land within the historic overlay district. Any proposal for development within the historic overlay district is subject to the following criteria:

- Remnants of Civil War earthworks and fortifications should be preserved.
- Due to the high potential for Archaeological Resources, a Phase I archaeological survey should be performed prior to any zoning action. Based on the findings from the Phase I survey, Phase II and, if needed, a Phase III with mitigation/ conservation plans should be developed, which may result in recommendations for conservation easements, public access/acquisition or other methods of preservation. ~~Archaeology staff from the Park Authority~~ ~~The Cultural Resource and Protection Branch of the Fairfax County Park Authority~~ should be consulted as to what study is necessary and in developing an appropriate treatment and maintenance plan.

- There should be connectivity with the rest of the Centreville Historic Overlay District which may include conservation easements, public access/acquisition or other methods of preservation. Pedestrian linkages to and within the historic overlay district should be provided.
- Any proposal will need to address storm water management (SWM). A coordinated SWM plan should be achieved where feasible. Low impact development concepts should be a part of any SWM plan.
- Any development proposal must respect the Centreville Historic Overlay District Design Guidelines as adopted by Fairfax County's Architectural Review Board.
- Any development proposal should be compatible in terms of architecture, architectural mass, materials, scale, and design with the significant historic structures in the historic overlay district. Landscaping compatible with the historic overlay district should be provided. Structures should be designed to complement the historic overlay district and where appropriate should front the district.
- Traffic impacts on the historic overlay district should be minimized.
- Any development or ground disturbance in this sector, both on private and public land, should be preceded by heritage resource studies, and alternatives should be explored for the avoidance, preservation or recovery of significant heritage resources that are found. In those areas where significant heritage resources have been recorded, an effort should be made to preserve them. If preservation is not feasible, then, in accordance with countywide objectives and policies as cited in the Heritage Resources section of the Policy Plan, the threatened resource should be thoroughly recorded and in the case of archaeological resources, the artifacts recovered."

Commercial uses ~~shall~~ should be developed as part of a shopping center and additional commercial zoning ~~shall~~ should be prohibited. The height of freestanding signs ~~shall~~ should not exceed 10 feet and the maximum building height is 35 feet. All improvements to include structures, signs, fences, street furniture, outdoor graphics and public and private utilities, ~~shall~~ should be designed and installed to be compatible with the church in terms of mass, scale, color and visual impact. To the extent possible, existing tree cover should be preserved in that area south of the Norfolk Southern Railway. ~~—All development within the historic overlay district must be reviewed by the Architectural Review Board.~~

Consideration should be given to expansion of the boundaries of St. Mary’s Historic Overlay District to include some of the 19th century residential structures of the old St. Mary’s community.

The Robey's Mill complex along Popes Head Road has also been designated as a Historic Overlay District. The provisions of the Robey's Mill Historic Overlay District (Appendix 1, A1-1000 of the Zoning Ordinance) have been adopted to protect the mill complex also known as Hope Park Mill, and ensure that all development and uses will be compatible with the mill, miller's house, servants' log house, spring house and smokehouse. All improvements should be designed to be compatible with the scale and appearance of historic resources of the Robey's Mill Historic Overlay District. All development proposals must be reviewed by the Architectural Review Board as specified in Part 7-200 of the Zoning Ordinance. If there appears to be a conflict between Plan text and the provisions of the Robey's Mill Overlay District, the overlay district regulations take precedence for the development of land within the historic overlay district.

Within the historic overlay district, development ~~shall~~ should be limited to single-family detached dwellings with the exception of the mill, which may be used for its historical commercial purpose. All improvements within the district ~~shall~~ should be compatible with the historic structures in terms of mass, scale, color, and visual impact. ~~All development proposals within the district must be reviewed by the Architectural Review Board.~~

Any development or ground disturbance in this sector, both on private and public land, should be preceded by heritage resource studies, and alternatives should be explored for the avoidance, preservation or recovery of significant heritage resources that are found. In those areas where significant heritage resources have been recorded, an effort should be made to preserve them. If preservation is not feasible, then, in accordance with countywide objectives and policies as cited in the Heritage Resources section of the Policy Plan, the threatened resource should be thoroughly recorded and in the case of archaeological resources, the artifacts recovered.”

In 2016, a windshield survey was conducted to identify potential heritage resources in the Reston Transit Station Areas. A comprehensive formal survey of historic architectural resources has never been completed in Reston. Therefore, there is a potential for unidentified existing heritage resources. The open spaces and residential areas of Reston are particularly likely to yield heritage resources, especially from the 1960s when Reston was first developed. Development in the area of the site of the Civil War Battle of Dranesville (in the vicinity of Reston Avenue and Leesburg Pike) should be sensitive to any heritage resources associated with that event. “Mount Air Historic Overlay District lies within this sector. The provisions of the Mount Air Historic Overlay District can be found in ~~Appendix A~~ Appendix 1, A1-1200 of the Zoning Ordinance. The Mount Air historic mansion was destroyed by fire in 1992. However, the site of the residence, related outbuildings, and surrounding site vegetation have been maintained and preserved, and the Fairfax County Park Authority has interpreted it to reflect the 19th century character of the site. In addition to the use of restrictive easements or revolving funds to help protect the Mount Air site and grounds, development on adjacent sites should be oriented to complement the historic site and grounds and provide the necessary landscape buffer zones to effectively reduce adjoining architectural and traffic impacts.

The house ruins, outbuildings, and gardens all form the site complex, and all of these elements are protected and interpreted. All alterations or development within the historic overlay district must be reviewed by the Architectural Review Board as specified in Part 7-200 of the Zoning Ordinance. If there appears to be a conflict between Plan text and the provisions of the Mount Air Historic Overlay District, the overlay district regulations take precedence for the development of land within the historic overlay district.”

MODIFY: Fairfax County Comprehensive Plan, 2017 Edition, Area IV, Franconia-Springfield Area and Fort Belvoir North Area as amended through 10-24-2017, Franconia Springfield Area, Character and Location, Franconia-Springfield Transit Station Area page 3, as follows:

“Oak Grove, a plantation house built around 1820, was located in this planning sector. The Oak Grove site ~~is~~ was a significant heritage resource formerly listed in the Fairfax County Inventory of Historic Sites. A list and map of heritage resources are included in the Springfield Planning District Overview section, Figures 4 and 5. Due to the former existence of this historic site, large, undeveloped areas along the CSX Railroad have a high potential for significant heritage resources.”
