

Recycling & Waste Reduction Efforts FAQs

What's in it for me?

- Your recycling and waste reduction efforts will help promote your business to customers and potential employees as an environmentally friendly establishment.
- Stay ahead of local and state-wide environmental legislation by embracing recycling and waste reduction now.
- Fairfax County requires all businesses to recycle.

Why is recycling required?

- Fairfax County's 1.2 million residents generate over one million tons of trash per year. Recycling and waste reduction efforts are major components of managing our municipal waste stream.

Will it cost me money?

- Waste reduction and recycling efforts will most likely produce cost savings, particularly in areas such as food preparation and purchasing.
