2017 Fairfax County Teen Job Fairs - Supervisor Pat Herrity jointly with Supervisors Storck, Smyth, and Smith

Proposed Action

This year, Supervisor Herrity is teaming up with the Supervisors Smith, Smyth, and Storck to bring our community four Fairfax County Teen Job Fairs and Resume Building Workshops. It is open to all teens in Fairfax County looking for employment or tips to build their resume. Free booth space will be provided to any business or organization to advertise their available positions. Both teenagers and businesses/organizations may register to attend by visiting http://www.fairfaxcounty.gov/springfield/teenjobfair.htm

Supervisor Herrity moved that the Board ask the Office of Public Affairs to help publicize the 2017 Fairfax County Teen Job Fairs and Resume Building Workshops to the local community. Motion unanimously approved by the Board.

Supervisor Herrity stated that his office, along with avariety of business and community organizations, hosted two teen job fairs andresume building workshops last year. These events focused on students andyounger job seekers looking for a variety of employment opportunities; fulltime, after-school, seasonal positions, internship opportunities, and volunteerpositions. These two job fairs provided hundreds of teenagers the opportunity get in front of employers and for employers to find talented Fairfax Countystudents to fill their positions. Over 600 students and over 70 employersattended both events combined.

First jobs are important and these events help connect teensand employers face to face and prepare our youth for the workforce.

Thank you to Chief Richard Bowers, the Fairfax CountyFire and Rescue Team, and DPWES

Proposed Action

On Feb. 2, a fire at Covanta's Lorton waste-to-energy facility started as a one-alarm fire and progressed throughout the event. Fire investigators determined that the fire originated on the tipping floor and extended to the holding pit of the facility. When contacted by staff, Supervisor Storck immediately went to the site and joined our fire and rescue crews and James Patterson and John Kellas from the Department of Public Works and Environmental Services.

Supervisor Storck thanked Fire Chief Richard Bowers and the entire fire and rescue team for their immediate and exemplary response to this fire event and their continued efforts to protect our community; this was a first for the Lorton community. There were no reported civilian or fire fighter injuries, and for that, we are very thankful. Supervisor Storck also thanked the very professional services of James Patterson and his team for their expertise and hands-on support both before, during and after the event.

Mount Vernon's 30th Annual Town Meeting

Proposed Action

On February 4, 2017, Supervisor Storck hosted the30th Annual Mount Vernon Town Meeting at Mount Vernon High School. At 7:45 AM, the doors opened to the exhibithall where over 60 Fairfax County agencies, non-profits organizations, andother groups were able to connect with and answer questions from Mount VernonDistrict residents. This year, the townmeeting theme was #ConnectMVD, and the focus was on how we can better connectour residents to each other, to available services and current events in MountVernon, and also helping constituents understand the importance of communityengagement.

Supervisor Storck thanked all the agencies that were able to attend and who continue to make this tradition sosuccessful. He also thanked Chairman Bulova, County Executive Ed Long, Fort Belvoir Public Affairs Director Joe Richards, Mount Vernon District School Board Member Karen Corbett Sanders, Congressman Connolly, and Congressman Beyer for their willingness to join me on Super Bowl Saturday and for providing residents updates on key issues affecting the Mount Vernon District, the County, and our nation.

Finally, Supervisor Storck extended special thanks to the Channel 16 Crew who helped us live stream and Facebook live the event - Donna Monacci, Sara Mingo, Greg Smalfelt, PatrickBalsamo, John Graham, Josh Bass, Albee Sinayoko, Steve Adams, Ali Al Taweel, Douglas Zambrano, Larry Aronson, Scott Coco, Bob DeMarco, and Sean Metzger; ourtrem endous DIT team, Joey Taguding and Mark Leonard; and Matt Miller from GIS. Matt worked with Supervisor Storck's staff to help create the first truly virtual flying tour of the district by utilizing the same technology that is available to residents at Virtual Fairfax on the county'swebsite. The software allows you tovisualize, analyze, and host 3D GIS with available tools for flooding analysis, line of sights, and viewsheds.

The townmeeting will air play on Cox cable channel 16 at 8:00 pm on February 26. DVDcopies are also available at Mount Vernon District libraries.
